

BILLINGS HELD IN DETROIT JAIL

Former Union Township Farmer
Faces Removal to Newcastle for
Trial on Bank Charge

EXTRADITION PAPERS OUT

Accused of Issuing Fraudulent
Statements to Get Credit—May
Fight Removal to Indiana

George F. Billings, Union township farmer who has been missing for a year, and whose estate has been in court involving bankruptcy, is detained in jail in Detroit, Mich., and is to be removed to Newcastle to face trial in the Henry circuit court.

The charge against him is issuing fraudulent statements in order to obtain credit, and the injured party is represented by the First National bank of Lewisville. Judge Rufus Hinshaw of the Henry circuit court in a communication today, stated that he had signed extradition papers and presented them to the governor for his removal to this state.

It was intimated that Billings has resented extradition procedure and will fight his removal from that city, making it necessary for the governors of the two states to pass upon it.

Billings left home a year ago, disappearing mysteriously at the time, and after his departure several law suits were filed here against him, which disclosed that his financial condition was bankrupt, and mortgages were involved to a great extent.

It has been known for several days that Billings was detained in Detroit, but this was not confirmed until today. It is understood that a charge of issuing fraudulent statements in order to obtain credit was filed in this county before George Clark, justice of the peace for Center township, and a warrant issued.

In this instance, it was stated that the Mays National bank was the injured party, and it is understood that Billings was arrested on this affidavit, with the proceedings by the Lewisville bank being followed in the Henry circuit court.

The extradition papers and the necessary steps to secure his removal to this state, are being made through Newcastle, and it may be several days before the prisoner is released to this state.

SHAKE-UP IS EXPECTED TO MATERIALIZE TODAY

Governor Jackson Calls Conference
With Members of Highway Commission This Afternoon

MAY ASK WILLIAMS TO QUIT

Indianapolis, Ind., March 11—The long expected shake-up in the state house was expected to materialize this afternoon at a conference called by Governor Jackson with members of the highway commission.

Persons close to the governor said Jackson would ask for the resignation of John D. Williams, director, and all members with the possible exception of Alvan Burch of Evansville.

Jackson admitted the conference was called, but refused to comment on reports of the impending shake-up.

Williams, who is under indictment charged with embezzlement in the sale of war materials by the commission, said he did not think the governor would ask him to step out.

Earl Crawford, another commission member under indictment, indicated he thought the governor would demand the resignation.

It was reported that Harry Leslie of Lafayette, speaker of the house of representatives, had been offered the job of highway director but had refused.

If the present personnel of the commission is ousted, jobs of 1,500 employees of the department loyal to Williams, will be endangered, it was said.

I. & C. ANNOUNCES FARE CUT

Reduction in Passenger Fares of
One-Third Effective Sunday

The Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company today met serious bus competition with announcement of a cut of approximately one-third in round trip passenger rates.

The reduction becomes effective Sunday and as intended as an experiment to see if it will help business, according to Charles Henry, president of the traction company.

Operators of busses competing with the Indianapolis and Cincinnati traction company for passenger business announced they would make no reduction in their rates to meet the interurban cut.

Other traction companies are considering similar reductions.

COOLIDGE TO DROP FIGHT FOR WARREN

President Represented in Senate
Circles as Intending to Seek New
Attorney General

REJECTION UNEXPECTED

Coolidge Will Reserve Decision on Next Step Until After He Con-
fers With Warren

Detroit, Mich. March 11—Charles B. Warren, who was rejected by the senate yesterday as attorney general, left today for a conference with President Coolidge at Washington. Warren said his presence was requested by the president.

By PAUL R. MALLON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, March 11—President Coolidge will submit a new nomination for attorney general to the senate before it adjourns. Republican leaders declared today, after a conference with the president at the White House.

Furthermore, in the opinion of Senator Cummins, Iowa, it will be approved by the senate at this extra session. As for the likelihood of the president resubmitting the name of Charles B. Warren, who was refused confirmation in a dramatic session of the senate late yesterday, Cummins said:

"It would be hopeless with the present lineup in the senate. I don't know of any who might be expected now to change their vote of yesterday."

The president will reserve his decision on his next step in filling the post of attorney general until he has conferred with Warren, it was indicated at the White House.

Warren is understood to have been asked to confer with the President at the White House tomorrow.

Senator Cummins ventured his conviction after President Coolidge had summoned him, as well as Senator Moses, New Hampshire, Reed, Pennsylvania, Smoot, Utah, and Watson, Indiana for a conference at the White House. He declined to say, however, whether or not the president had indicated he has considered resubmitting Warren's name.

"There will be a new attorney general before the present session of the senate adjourns," was the only positive light Cummins would throw on the situation.

NOW THEN, LET 'EM FIGHT IT OUT

ADMITS THEFT, ASKS CLEMENCY

Wade Treischman, Age 26 Confesses
Guilt on Grand Jury Charge of
Grand Larceny

IS AT MERCY OF THE JURY

State Demands Full Punishment Although Gun Was Returned to
Owner, Ralph Moffitt

Wade Treischman, age 26, was tried today by a jury in the circuit court on a charge of grand larceny, admitting his guilt before a jury, and seeking clemency. The jury was given the case about 2:20 this afternoon and had not returned a verdict at three o'clock.

Treichman has been in jail for several weeks, following his arrest in Knightstown. The evidence was brief and the defense admitted the facts concerning the theft of a shotgun from Ralph Moffitt, a resident of northern Rush county.

In the argument presented by A. C. Stevens, representing the defendant, a plea for clemency was made before the jury, in which an effort was made to have the jury reduce the charge from that of grand larceny to petit larceny. A plea for recommendation of a suspended sentence also was made to the jury.

The state, in prosecuting the action based on a recent grand jury indictment, was demanding the full extent of punishment for the defendant, that of grand larceny. The gun stolen was valued at $50.

The evidence was that the defendant was accosted on the streets in Knightstown recently, and told Moffitt and the officers where they could find the gun at his home, and it was returned to them. It had been taken last October.

The jury which heard the case consisted of the following twelve men: Elmer Caldwell, Elmer Morris, Chester Cross, Elisha Williams, James Dill, E. E. Hungerford, Angus Miller, Leslie Miller, Justus Reece, Bert Heaton, Charles Miller and Ferd Retherford.

Among the new cases filed in court is a complaint for divorce, filed by Rebecca P. Deerin against Johannon M. Deerin, the action charging that the defendant was cruel, had a high temper, cursed the plaintiff, and failed to provide. They were married January 24, 1920, and separated February 28, 1925. The parties are residents of Posey township.

A petition has been filed by Bessie Marie Burgdoerfer for her adoption by Benjamin and Effie Burgdoerfer.

He is said to be wanted on charges of vehicle taking in Bedford.

REVIVAL SERVICES TO OPEN HERE NEXT SUNDAY

Preach Nightly at St. Paul's
Church Special Meetings

BOTH SINGER AND PREACHER

A series of revival services will begin at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday. These services will continue every evening except Saturday until Palm Sunday, April 5. In preparation for these services Dr. J. T. Scull, the district superintendent, will preach on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The quarterly conference will follow the service. On Sunday morning the pastor's sermon will be "What Shall the Harvest Be?" and in the evening, "Those Rusty Keys." He will also preach on Monday evening.

On Tuesday evening, the evangelist, the Rev. T. Edward Thomas of Muncie, will begin his work. Eddie Thomas, as he is familiarly known, is an evangelist of unusual ability, both as singer and as preacher. He has held very successful meetings in many of the largest churches in the state. He recently closed a very successful meeting in Richmond, Ind.

During the meeting at Greensburg about a year ago, there were over two hundred conversions and accessions to the church. He held very successful meetings last year at the First Church, Shelbyville. He has been called back three years in succession at the First Church, Columbus, Ind. During these meetings several hundred have been converted and have united with the church. At Vevay there were one hundred and twenty-five conversions. He comes with the highest recommendations from all who have had his services in their churches. A great meeting that will bring permanent results for good to all the churches in Rushville is anticipated.

"Every evening we gathered up half a bushel basket full of empty bottles. Hammond knew it was going on."

The state put in evidence 125 bottles taken in the raid by prohibition officers.

At the morning session the work was organized and a lecture demonstration given on the selection of materials.

In the afternoon the women made various embroidery stitches and braid finishes.

BERT WILSON FOUND GUILTY

Convicted on Charge of Assault and
Battery With Intent to Kill by
Circuit Court Jury

JUDGE TO PASS SENTENCE

Jurors Refuse to Believe Shooting
Was Accidental and Found Him
Guilty in 20 Minutes

Bert Wilson, age 49, was found guilty in circuit court late Tuesday afternoon by a jury, on the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill, and sentence will be passed shortly by Judge Sparks.

The case got under way Monday before the jury, and was given over to them for a verdict at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon, requiring only 20 minutes for a verdict of guilty. The sentence is provided in such cases, and will be passed by Judge Sparks.

The state convicted the defendant upon the charge, following an alleged controversy at the Wilson home, 826 North Sexton street, early one Sunday morning recently, when Wilson was charged with coming home, and shooting his wife, Maggie Wilson.

The state, by Prosecutor Ketchum, showed to the jury, according to the decision reached in their verdict, that he fired at his wife with the intention of killing her. The injury was not of a serious nature and Mrs. Wilson has recovered.

The state was confronted with an unusual circumstance in connection with the case, because the wife and daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Brooks, sole witnesses to the shooting, were more favorable in their testimony for the defendant and were reluctant in prosecuting the charge.

The arguments were given to the jury by the defendant's attorneys, A. C. Stevens, and Raymond Springer, during which an attempt was made to show that the shooting was accidental, and that the gun was discharged in such a position that no direct aim could have been taken at the woman. The jury, however, failed to see it in this light, and on the third ballot convicted him on the charge.

SENATOR FROM WYOMING TELLS OF NEGOTIATIONS

John B. Hendrick First Witness
Called at Today's Session of Tea-
pot Dome Suit

HE WAS ASKED TO SEE FALL

(By United Press)

Federal Court Room, Cheyenne, Wyo., Mar. 11—John B. Kendrick, United States senator from Wyoming was the first witness called at today's session of the government's suit to break the lease of the Mammoth oil company on the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve.

Kendrick testified he received a telegram from Leslie Miller of Cheyenne on April 7, 1922, asking Kendrick to inquire of former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall if the department of interior would consider application for a lease on part of Teapot Dome.

Kendricks said he brought the matter to the department's attention, and on April 14, Miller wired him again, asking him to again inquire of the interior department about considering an application for a lease on part of the reserve.

Kendricks was questioned by Atlee Pomerene, former United States senator from Ohio. Kendrick said he did not know of the Teapot Dome lease at the time of Miller's telegram and said that a letter from H. Boster Bain, director of the bureau of mines, on April 10 stated that no definite contracts had been made in connection with naval oil reserves No. 1 and 2 in California and No. 3 in Wyoming.

On April 18, Kendrick said he received a telegram from former Governor B. B. Brooks of Wyoming on behalf of the Rocky Mountain Oil and Gas producers association of Casper, urging the Wyoming delegation to take action preventing consummation of the Teapot Dome lease.

NEW HARMONY BANK ROBBED

Four Bandits Sought Throughout Southern Indiana

New Harmony, Ind., Mar. 11.—Four bandits who robbed the New Harmony Bank and Trust company of $5,000 late yesterday were hunted throughout southern Indiana today.

The bandits entered the bank a few minutes before closing time and knocked Frank Steelman, cashier, unconscious when he refused to open the vault.

Mrs. Grace Schultz was forced to open the vault and two customers were locked in a back room while the bandits looted the vault.

The robbers fled in an auto toward Evansville.

Weather No Interference

Stormy weather does not interfere with attendance at revival services, Tuesday night the prayer service at the Wesley M. E. church was at its height. The fervent preaching by the pastor from the text: Numbers 14:23 and Luke 23:43 on the subject "Two of the Most Thrilling Stories of the Bible," had its effect on one unsaved man, who found his way to the altar for altar service.

Those who are missing these services are certainly missing a treat, it is pointed out. The pastor will speak each night.

learned, informed the president that Warren's nomination, if re-submitted, could not be confirmed and they left with the impression that Mr. Coolidge is convinced he must seek another man. There was no hint either at the White House or senate as to whom he would select.

President Coolidge's nomination of Charles B. Warren to be attorney general is the sixth cabinet nomination ever to be rejected by the senate. The last previous rejection was Andrew Johnson's—that of Henry Stanberry, Ohio, to be attorney general in 1868.

Warren, according to information reaching senate Republican leaders does not wish the President to re-submit his nomination and would not accept a recess appointment. For the present no move is expected from the White House in the dramatic series of events which led to the senate's unexpected rejection of the nomination late yesterday by a vote of 41 to 39.

The action was a complete reversal of all that had been expected and even now Republican leaders feel that they have a majority if their full strength was present—including Vice President Charles G. Dawes, whose absence from the chamber at the critical voting moment was chiefly responsible for the defeat.

Dawes was resting at his hotel apartment when frantic word came to him from the capitol that the senate was tied, 40-40, over the confirmation of the Warren nomination and for him to take a taxicab and hurry to the senate chamber. He did. His secretary met him at the door. A special elevator was waiting for him. He was ushered in and still breathing hard from his run when he mounted the rostrum.

But just as he came in, Senator Overman, Democrat, North Carolina, in response to earnest pleadings from Senator Warren, Montana Democrat, who led the fight against Warren, agreed to change his vote.

Dawes' entry came just a second too late. Overman by his switch, prevented reconsideration of the vote by which the nomination was rejected.

Under the law Mr. Coolidge may not submit the nomination if he and Warren so desires. It could follow the usual course and come up for action like a new nomination, but the fight previously made would be but a brawl compared with the battle that would be waged now that the opposition sees an opportunity to defeat the nomination.

The other course is to wait until after the senate adjourns, leaving Solicitor Beck in charge of the department of justice. After adjournment Mr. Coolidge can make a recess appointment.

The White House was stunned when the news of the senate vote was received. It is the sixth time in history that a cabinet nomination has failed of confirmation and Mr. Coolidge is the fourth president to suffer such a defeat.

The Warren nomination has been disputed for more than two months. Purposely no action was sought upon it in the last senate because Republican leaders felt that with their increased majority in the new senate confirmation would be only a routine matter.

ANY WOMAN, any man, can now have a well-developed face and form. The whole, simple secret of a well-developed form is in the number of blood-cells in your body. You can now forget all the theoretical talk about diet, exercise, food treatments, food-fats and fat-foods. Nothing is of any use, after all, except blood-cells!

Thin, run-down men and women, with bony necks, sunken cheeks, bony shoulders—all these are suffering from one thing—too few blood-cells. Science has proved that S.S.S. helps to make the rich red-blood-cells, which you need. Your blood is starving for these new blood-cells! Give your blood the blood-cells it needs—take S.S.S. the great scientific blood-cell maker. S.S.S. has done marvels, too, in making beautiful complexions, clearing the skin, making lips rosy red, the cheeks full and plump—because it rids the blood of impurities which cause pimples, blackheads, acne, blotches, eczema, tetter, rash and rheumatism, too. As the medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable, it may be taken with perfect safety. This is why S.S.S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women a plus in their strength. The Omniscient Guide:—The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord. Psalm 37: 23.

Prayer:—Enlighten us, O Lord, to study thy word faithfully. Then it shall be a lamp to our feet and a guide to our path.

A Sad Commentary

It is a sad commentary on politics that L. O. Hamilton had to withdraw from the race for the nomination for mayor on the republican ticket in Indianapolis, because politics has become a profession, and the time required in building up an organization, and the expense involved, makes it impractical for a business man to attempt to run for office.

He reached this conclusion after having become a candidate and having made a survey of the situation. He said in announcing his withdrawal:

"To be successful in politics, one must play the game all the time. It is not possible to get into one campaign and make a successful race without the support of one or the other of the existing organizations. In the course of two or more campaigns a man might build an independent organization sufficiently powerful to be successful. The cost of such an organization would be tremendous, and I have neither the inclination to pay it myself nor to ask my friends to contribute to it."

It is unhappy day for the people of any community when capable business men feel that they can not make the sacrifice required to perform a service to their community by holding public office.

But the people themselves who have countenanced the kind of politics in vogue today are alone to blame. They have listened to the false charges of the demagogues, who have accused party organizations of political crimes, in order to advance their own interests.

One of the results of this trend in politics was the discrediting of the old convention system and the substituting of the direct primary, which has been responsible for many of our political ills.

In the days of the convention plan of nominating candidates, the party was responsive to the needs of the people and endeavored to select men who had qualifications for office. Then one campaign was all a candidate had to make.

With the primary system, to win an office, a candidate must go

Loosen Up That Cold With Musterole

Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all of the advantages of grandmother's mustard plaster WITHOUT the blister. You just apply it with the fingers. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients, Musterole is recommended by many nurses and doctors. Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, cramp, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest. It may prevent pneumonia and "flu."

through two strenuous campaigns and he has to resort to every device known to professional politics. He also has to spend large sums of money. He has to line up, as Mr. Hamilton points out, with this or that clique, which is organized down to the smallest political unit. Generally a professional politician leads the organization, and instead of party government, we have personal government with office holders all too often subservient to the dictates of the political boss instead of the people.

Idle Forest Land

There are about eighty million acres of idle forest land in the United States that should be at work.

Eight million acres of idle forest land comes into being every year through man-caused forest fires.

It is plain where this would lead to without a fixed forestry policy that will build up our timber at least in small proportion to the rate at which it is being reduced.

This is the purpose of the annual observance of American Forest Week, which President Coolidge has proclaimed for April 27 to May 3.

Farmers especially should awake to the country's forest needs. One-third of all our forest land is in the form of farm woodlots and small holdings. Farmers also are the greatest single class of wood-users.

Here in Rush county the most casual observer has seen the way forest land has been cut over. Hundreds upon hundreds of trees are cut out annually and none is planted to take their place.

The Indiana department of conservation has been preaching reforestation and also has been doing some constructive work in this direction in the southern part of the state.

But the problem of our diminishing forests will never be solved by state and federal agencies. It is one for every land owner to consider most seriously.

Hunt's Washington Letter

— BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Although Nick Longworth will not officially be elected or seated as speaker until the new House assembles next December, political oracles already have doped out for him the next step in his career.

From speaker, according to the "dope," he is to move up to a senatorship. There he would be counted upon to remain as a fixture, since even Nick's closest friends scarcely cast him in the role of a presidential possibility.

While Longworth has proved himself politically invincible in his home bailiwick of Cincinnati, having been defeated there but once in 20 years—and that in the Wilson year of 1912—he never has faced a test of strength in a state campaign.

Elements of popularity which have made him strong in his home district might hinder rather than help in an election in which the voters of the whole state had a voice.

A period in the speakership, it is believed, may give Longworth new prestige among his "folks back home" and win for him recognition as a distinguished Ohioan rather than merely as a favored son of Cincinnati.

WHILE Longworth has been known and liked in the House for his own ability and personality, he is still known by the rank and file of his fellow Buckeyes, outside of Cincinnati, because of his "in-laws."

He is still identified, over the state at large, either as "President Roosevelt's son-in-law," or as "Alice Roosevelt's husband."

In addition, due to the fact that "wet" Cincinnati has so persistently returned him to the House, he is regarded by the up-state "drys" as satisfactory to and representative of "wet" interests in Ohio.

Up to the present these have been regarded as barriers across the path of Nick's advancement to the Senate.

With the prestige of the speakership to his credit, however, it is believed Longworth may feel sufficiently fortified in the esteem of all Ohio Republicans to make the try for the Senate either two or four years hence.

WORD has reached Washington that "Alfalfa Bill" Murray's freak farm colony, down in the wilds of Bolivia, is on the rocks.

"Alfalfa Bill" was one of the striking characters in Congress a dozen years ago. He was a member at large from Oklahoma and his tousled shock of wiry hair, his sweeping "buck-horn" moustach and his ever-present quid of chewing tobacco did much to give variety and color to the congressional landscape.

Following his defeat for a third term, Murray negotiated a concession of 20,000 acres from the Bolivian government and led a band of pioneers, for whom Oklahoma had grooved too civilized, into the South American wilds.

But lack of rainfall, lack of roads, lack of markets and too much jungle has wrecked Bill's dream of a tropical Utopia.

Style Show a Success

The style show which was conducted at the Princess theatre on Monday and Tuesday evening of this week, by E. R. Casady's store, attracted large crowds each evening and much favorable comment was heard on the attraction. Several models displayed the latest styles in coats, dresses and ensemble suits. In connection with the fashion show, a picture entitled "Fifth Avenue Models," was shown.

Shirley Mason at Castle

Hypnotism plays a prominent part in "Curlytop," the latest starring vehicle of Shirley Mason which comes to the Castle Theatre today for a run of two days.

In the picture Curlytop (Shirley Mason) is cast as a waif living in the notorious Limehouse district of London. The fact that she is different from the rest of the girls causes her to become an object of special attention.

Tom Brannigan, an outcast of civilization, is intrigued by the girl's freshness and beauty and to him she recalls brighter and happier days.

To Shanghai Pan, a white man who has lived among the orientals for so long a time that he has really lost his identity, the girl is a new toy. Versed in the devious arts of the Orientals he is an adept at hypnotism and attempts to win the girl by the power of the eye.

Just what happens eventually and the many dramatic incidents that occur during the action of the play, is familiar to those who have read "Curlytop" which is one of the notable stories of Thomas Burke's

Limehouse Nights, the most widely read volume of stories of the past year.

Wallace MacDonald, Warner Oland, Diana Miller, George Kuwa, Ernest Adams, Nora Hayden, and LaVerne Lindsay support Miss Mason.

Colleen Moore at Princess

From extra parts to leading lady within a few short years is the unusual experience that has come to Colleen Moore, winsome screen actress whose career reads like a fairy story. It is not so long ago since Miss Moore was waiting in studio offices hoping that the day would bring some work and a step nearer her ambition.

One of her first big parts was to play opposite John Barrymore in "The Lotus Eater." The picture gave her the opportunity she sought and her talent was recognized. She has been playing leading parts ever since until her ability attracted the notice of Oliver Morosco.

The famous producer of "The Bat" was looking for a feminine lead for Wheeler Oakman in his latest picture to be released as a First National attraction, "Slippy McGee." He wired Miss Moore, who was then in the east, of the opportunity and within an hour she had made reservations on the transcontinental limited.

"Slippy McGee" is perhaps the biggest and most exacting role that has fallen to her lot. In it she is called upon to portray a girl who is responsible for the reformation of "Slippy" the most notorious safe cracker the country has known.

The part calls for charm and naiveness combined with mature wisdom. How ably it has been done will be seen when "Slippy McGee" opens at the Princess theatre today.

"The Unknown Purple"

"The Unknown Purple" which will be shown at the Mystic Theatre, today is an adaptation of the sensational successful stage play of the same name by Roland West. After playing a solid year on Broadway, New York, it was seen in the principal cities of the country during two succeeding seasons.

The theme is one of mystery, centering about a purple ray of light in which a human being can make himself invisible to the eye. The possessor of this remarkable secret is an inventor, played by Henry B. Walthall, whose wife has betrayed his trust in her and whose best friend has stolen all he possessed and sent him to prison on a false charge. Unrecognized by those who betrayed him, the inventor returns after his prison term, and with the aid of the weird power of making himself invisible, which he possesses proceeds to take a justified vengeance upon them.

In the cast of the production which was personally directed by the author, are Henry B. Walthall, Alice Lake, Stuart Holmes, Helen Ferguson, Ethel Grey Terry, John Arthur, Brinsley Shaw, James Morrison, Little Frankie Lee, Richard Wayne and Mike Donlin.

Why Keep On Paying This Tax?

Everybody expects to pay some taxes, but why impose unnecessary taxes on yourself?

Do you realize that every time you drive your car on an unpaid highway you are actually taxing yourself one to four cents a mile?

This is the cost of increased repair, tire and gasoline bills.

Highway research has definitely established these facts.

Each year you tax yourself in this way a good many dollars.

Instead of spending this money for increased transportation costs, why not invest it in Concrete Highways and pay yourself some dividends?

Concrete Roads and Streets pay for themselves in the saving they effect on the cost of motoring.

Their maintenance cost is so low that this saving alone returns good dividends on the investment, year after year.

You are imposing an unnecessary tax on yourself from which you get no return, by failing to work for more Concrete Highways.

Not in a long time have general conditions been so favorable for carrying on such public works as permanent highway building.

Your highway authorities are ready to carry on their share of this great public work. But they must have your support.

Tell them you are ready to invest in more Concrete Highways, now.

The interest of the regional at Richmond seems to center on the two final games at night. Most dopesters pick Connersville and Richmond for the 7:30 game and Rushville and Columbus for the 8:30 game. The rest of the games are not expected to be much force, but this is the year of the great unexpected, and there is no telling who might get upset.

AURORA MAY BE A DARK HORSE

Aurora meets Richmond. This Aurora team went into the final game of the tri-state tourney at Cincinnati a few weeks ago. Monrovia won the tourney, beating Aurora 20 to 18. This same Monrovia team gave Martinsville a terrible fight in the sectional last Saturday night, and forced Martinsville to the limit to win by five points. By comparison scores, Aurora may give Richmond a tussle.

Deputy hails from around the southern part of the state and won the sectional at Madison. Connersville is going up against them as a total unknown quantity. That forms the lower bracket of the Richmond regional—Aurora, Richmond, Deputy and Connersville—and only one team will survive for the state finals.

Here is the Bracket That Interests Us

In this other bracket, Shelbyville meets Columbus in the first game at two o'clock. Columbus has won two games this year from Shelbyville, and should win this game. Coach Campbell of Shelbyville is a smooth one, and no doubt has profited by those two former defeats. This game will be hard fought regardless of which one wins. Rushville and Freetown meet next at three o'clock and like Connersville, Rushville is going up against an unknown quantity, and the Lions should not take any chances. From these four teams, only one will go to the state.

Columbus has a new player by the name of Selmer that is a whirlwind. McNamara can handle him in great shape, and if Rushville plays Columbus, you can bet your life that Mac will guard him, and he won't score any 16 points like he did against Shelbyville a few weeks ago.

Then Mac will have another job handling that floor guard on the Freetown team, who has been pointed out as their stellar performer. It looks like a big tourney for Mac.

There will be mighty few centers in that entire regional bunch to compare with Lakin. As a matter of fact, there won't be a single one. Lakin has everything that is expected of a center. When it comes to team work, goal shooting and playing the game, he is right on the job.

Arbuckle is coming along fine in that forward position and the way he played those three games in the sectional tourney, making a total of 28 points and playing a wonderful floor game, he is just starting on his stride, and he is going even better in the rest of the journey ahead of the Lions.

Now Arbuckle's running mate, Newbold at forward, is just another one of those players that gets better the farther he goes. His past record indicates that he has the real stuff. The longer a game goes, the more dangerous he is on that basket, and those little shots from down the side, always bring the applause. Bob is truly a wonderful, all around player and will make any of 'em step some.

A great many teams brag about their state timber for a back guard. Everyone in Rushville knows that Miller can equal any of them, and when he grabs 'em off the bank boards and starts down the floor, it either means a basket or else a good start in that direction. Miller has the size, ability and everything. He also has an eye for the basket, and can dribble clear through to the basket for shots. He will no doubt make 'em take notice in those games at Richmond.

McNamara has hit on all eight. In the tourney Mac found his basket eye, but even without an eye for the basket, he is a tower of strength on defense, and floor work. In baseball, a player gets credit for assists, and if that were true in basketball, he would have a longer list than anyone. He gets the ball down the floor, breaks up more plays and works in the midst of all encounters.

There is no discounting the substitutes. Davison, Osborne, Cherry, Wainwright and Randle will no doubt be the selected five, and these fellows fit into many positions. It is a great thing to have players on the bench that can fit in, and relieve one of the regulars.

So far today this column has been devoted to eulogizing the Lions. They deserve a great deal more, and they will get a great deal more, before this thing is over with.

Columbus figures that Shelbyville will be their hardest game. That is just one more reason why Rushville should work the harder and put across a double victory in that tourney.

Here is Another Reason To Win the Tourney

George Purcell of Vincennes is picking Columbus.

Even Markin 'em up of Newcastle is picking Columbus. Let's show 'em all how poor guessers they are, and be one of the two teams to go to the state.

FREETOWN HASN'T A FLOOR TO PLAY UPON

The team that Rushville meets in the first game, is like the Sandusky team in a great many respects. They have the fight, goal shooting and a defense, according to word from the Seymour sectional. Here is more comment concerning the team, and especially about the player, that Mac will have to watch:

The district net tournament had a very dramatic finale here Saturday night when Freetown, a high school without a basketball floor, who upset dope in the semi-finals in the afternoon by defeating the Cortland five, downed the strong county seat team with a score of 20 to 18, and will go to the regionals at Richmond this week. C. Sprague, floor guard, the most outstanding player of the tournament, proved a human whirlwind in the game against Browns-town and led the Freetown quintet through an exciting game, scoring seven field goals and one free throw, making a total of 15 of the 20 points made by the Pershing township boys.

125 Boys Enrolled in Rush County Corn Club

BOY'S CORN CLUB IS MAKING PROGRESS

Business Men Selected Five Farmers to Assist in Determining Policies of Club

LIMIT ENROLLMENT TO 125

Due to Increase in Enrollment Amount of Corn Has Been Reduced to 15 Pounds

The Rush County Boy's Corn Club as promoted by the Rushville business men is making excellent progress. The business men's association has selected 5 farmers from different parts of the county who will assist in determining the general policies of the club during the coming year.

At a meeting of this committee two weeks ago Saturday it was decided definitely to limit the enrollment of the club to 125 boys this year. Originally only 75 boys were expected to join the club. Due to this increase in enrollment the amount of corn furnished each boy has been reduced from 18 2-3 to 15 pounds.

Last Friday the 125 club members were notified of this change and requested to fill out a blank stating that it was satisfactory to reduce the amount of seed which they were to get. The number of ears which the boys are to return has also been reduced from 70 to 60 selected ears. The club enrollment is evenly distributed over Rush county and the committee is planning to take care of as many boys next year as apply for membership.

Those who are familiar with the aims of the county Corn Club can foresee great benefits. Some of

DISPLAY INTEREST IN SEED CORN TESTING

Many Farmers in County Are Testing Quantities of Their Seed and Offering it For Sale

BUILT NEW TESTING BOX

There is more interest in seed corn testing in Rush county, as in other parts of the state this year, than ever before. Many farmers are testing quantities of their seed and offering it for sale. The farmer who has decided that his corn is not strong enough to plant has a perfect right to know the vitality of the corn which he buys. As a result many of the farmers are requiring that corn be tested before they pay seed prices for it.

There are many farmers in Rush county who already have tested all of their own seed and are planning to test some for sale. Their most serious difficulty is taking care of the dolls and keeping the mat a normal heat. To overcome this handicap the Rush County Farm Bureau has built a new testing box, which will take care of 361 dolls each week.

Any Rush county farmer who prepares his own dolls has access to this tester. Paper used in making the modified rag doll can be secured at the County Agent's office at cost. Many Rush county farmers are planning to take advantage of this new tester.

these are: 1st. Each boy realizes that he is taking part in Rush county's corn improvement program 2nd. As a club member he will receive enough seed to plant approximately 2 acres. It is hoped that this club plot will become the SEED CORN PATCH FOR THE FARM. 3rd. Each club member should plan

PIG MANAGEMENT RULES OUTLINED

Hog Growers of County Make Suggestions For Farmers in Raising Hog Standards Here

CLEANLINESS IS URGED

Is Important Factor in Many Ways to Developing Litters to Reach Ton Litter Stage

One of the first questions asked by the farmer who is entering the hoosier ton litter club for the first time is—"How can I feed this litter of pigs to make sure that they will weigh a ton when 180 days old?" Those who have produced ton litters are quick to inform them that methods of sanitation are of just as much importance, if not more, than questions of feeds.

Dr. G. N. Wickwire, the Federal Veterinarian, for Indiana, who has charge of swine disease control work spent two weeks in Rush county last August. He held two meetings each in 11 of the 12 townships. In these meetings he outlined the life cycle of the intestinal parasites which make pork production unprofitable. He showed that in order to avoid these internal parasites it was necessary to rotate the hog lots the same as the farmer rotates his crops. In so doing, young pigs are on fresh pasture where they will not be permitted to pick up eggs laid by parasites the previous year.

In ton litter club work it has been learned that there is a difference between clean farrowing pens and disinfected pens in favor of the disinfected pens. On the average, farmers who disinfect their pens in addition to cleaning them, have

SPECIALIST'S SERVICE TO BE AVAILABLE HERE

Any Farmer Suspecting Presence of Poisonous Plants Should Call County Agent

PURDUE MAN WILL COME

In case trouble has been experienced in Rush county from plant poisoning, the service of Albert A. Hansen, a poison plant specialist from the Purdue University Agricultural Extension Department, will be available in the near future, according to an announcement made today by County Agent Van Matre.

There is no question but that a great deal of forage poisoning in Indiana can be attributed to the effects of poisonous plants. The loss of stock in woodland, pastures is frequently caused by White snake-root, while water hemlock has caused heavy losses in pastures containing wet or moist places. There are a number of other poisonous species that are causing trouble in the Hoosier State.

Any farmer in the county who suspects the presence of poisonous plants on his farm and who desires the services of the specialist should communicate with County Agent Van Matre at once. The date of the specialist's arrival will be announced in a few days.

raised two-thirds of a pig more to the litter on the average than the farmers who just clean the pens. Where fresh pasture was provided in addition to a disinfected farrowing house, one and eighteen hundredths more pigs per litter were raised. Those farmers who washed off the brood sow's udders in addition to the above precautions raised one and fifteen hundredths pigs

CORN GROWERS TO HOLD BIG MEETING

County Agent Williams of Johnson County, Will be Here for Demonstration Saturday

BRINGING 180 EARS WITH HIM

Speaker Will Show Methods Used to Select Good Seed Corn, and Keep Quality Above Par

Those interested in putting Rush county at the top have asked Mr. Scott, secretary of the Johnson County Farm Bureau, and O. S. Williams, county agent of Johnson county, to be in Rushville next Saturday and tell of the work which they are doing in that county.

They are planning to bring 180 demonstration ears and 9 demonstration dolls with them which they will use in their talks. They will show so far as is possible the relation of outward characteristics of the ear with the vitality as shown in the rag doll. No corn grower can afford to miss this opportunity. The meeting will be called promptly at 1 o'clock, Saturday, March 14th in the Court Room. During the past five years the farmers of Rush county have been giving much of their attention to economical production of crops. It takes just as long to break and cultivate a field of corn which yields 35 bushels per acre as it does one which yields 75 bushels or more per acre.

There are many factors which enter into and causes variation in yield such as fertility of soil, time of planting, climatic conditions which the farmer is more or less helpless in controlling. However, every Rush county farmer can avail himself of "A No. 1" seed corn to

PURDUE STUDENTS GET HATCHERY EXPERIENCE

New Service to Indiana Poultry Raisers and New Line of Work For Students Started

TO SUPPLY CHICKS TO RAISERS

A new service to Indiana poultry raisers and a new line of work for Purdue University students is being started this spring by the Poultry Department. It has been the desire of the Poultry Department to offer students of Purdue University training in the operation and management of a commercial hatchery and to furnish Indiana poultry raisers with baby chicks in place of eggs for setting from well bred stock.

Both of these desires are being worked out this spring through the added facilities offered by the new poultry building and the installing of a new incubator equipment.

The new incubator equipment brings together for comparison purposes three widely used types of mammoth machines used by commercial hatcheries. These machines have a capacity of 9100 eggs and represent three distinct types, the triple deck sectional type machine, the water heated cabinet type with forced air circulation and the cabinet type electric heated incubator. In addition to these incubators there are twenty-two small machines each are twenty-two small machines each fifteen different makes.

This equipment will be in operation during March, April and May, and public inspection will be welcomed at any time. The first shipment of chicks was made Feb. 22 and other shipments will follow each week until the middle of May.

PREVENTION ONLY DIARRHEA REMEDY

No Flock Can be Sure Chickens are Free From Disease Until After 2 or More Clean Tests

HANCOCK COUNTY RESULTS

Blood Test is Bringing Returns in Controlling Losses Due to Bacillary White Diarrhea

Bacillary White Diarrhea is an infectious disease, transmitted from an infected hen through the egg to the chick. If there are only a few infected chicks in the hatch the disease spreads to the healthy ones. Often times the death rate in chicks from 4 days to 3 weeks of age is from 50 percent to 90 percent.

The only proven remedy is prevention which can be practiced by selecting non-infected hens and roosters for breeding. Infected birds in a flock can be detected by means of the blood test. However, no owner of a flock can be absolutely sure his flock is free from disease until after two or more clean tests.

This last year in Hancock county 10,000 hens were tested. On 20 farms which were picked at random by County Agent Cromer the percent of chickens hatched in 1923 and 1924 was 19,109 and 13,845 respectively. The percent raised in 1923 of this number was 37 percent while in 1924 these same 20 farmers raised 68.8 percent of their hatch.

The following is what some of the Hancock women have to say for the Bacillary White Diarrhea test.

"I had practically no losses from B. W. D. All losses were due to coccidiosis"—Mrs. Hazel Ashcraft. "Losses first three weeks did not exceed 100 chicks, other losses were

175,000 ATTEND FARM INSTITUTES

Figures Based on Reports From 333 of The 460 Different Institutes
Held During Winter

TOTAL ATTENDANCE 131,692

Largest Two Day Session Held Any Place in State Was at Knights-town With 2,268

Lafayette, Ind., March 11—Approximately 175,000 Indiana farm men and women turned out for the farmers' institutes which were held over the state during the past winter. This was the statement today by Prof. W. C. Fitch, in charge of this work for the Agricultural Extension Department of Purdue University, basing his figures on reports from 333 of the 460 different institutes held from Nov. 10 to Feb. 28. The total attendance at the 333 institutes was 131,692 or an average of 396 each.

Every county in the state except five held institutes this year, one county, Cass, holding as high as 13. This was more than any other in the state. Washington and Sullivan counties each had 12, and Lawrence county had eleven.

The largest two day session held at any place in the state was at Knights-town with 2268, and the largest single day institute was at Anderson, where 1135 different persons registered. Some of the other large institutes held were at Holland, in Dubois county, where 1890 persons attended the six different sessions, at Cowan, in Delaware county, where 1425 persons attended the five different sessions. A total of 1615 attended the institute at Harlan in Allen county, and three sessions at the Moral School in Shelby county, brought out 1650 persons.

"Interested in the institutes was keener this year than at any time since they were started in 1889," said Prof. Fitch. "This is shown by the attendance records established in many places over the state."

The instruction is given at the institutes by successful farm men and women from over Indiana and members of the Purdue extension staff. Various agricultural and home economics shows are held in connection and the institutes are a big factor for rural betterment in the state.

KOSCIUSKO DAIRYMEN KEEP FEED RECORDS.

The Jersey Breeders' Association of Kosciusko County held a meeting recently with R. D. Cannon as principal speaker. Arrangements were made for a year's record keeping work in the Dairy Feeding project. A number of farmers with about 60 cows enrolled. An interesting item in connection with the dairy work of a year ago is that one of the men present then is changing his herd as fast as possible to pure bred Jerseys and has produced a pure bred Jersey bull to head the herd. This work may be traced directly to the meeting of a year ago.

Wheat Handler on Rush County Farm Different From Ordinary Type

HOPPER AND END OF WHEAT BIN

The Indiana Farmer's Guide printed an article about a wheat handling device on a Rush county farm that is different from the ordinary type used. The Guide says:

On the Rush county farm of A. S. Cecil & Sons, of Delaware county, farmed by George Moore, wheat is handled in a manner different from that ordinarily used. Under the comb of the roof of the crib shed are two large wheat bins to which the grain is raised with a hopper that is operated with a hay-loading equipment. The plan may appeal to some farmers who already have the drive between their cribs, and who do not now have a satisfactory place for wheat storage.

One of the important things is to have the building strong enough to hold the wheat bins and their contents, for it must not be forgotten that wheat at 60 pounds to the bushels soon has a great weight though its cubic space may not be great. The bins on the Cecil farm will hold about 2,000 bushels. Timbers of about a foot square are used for bracing them, together with smaller framework.

The track for the hopper is built under the comb of the shed and the ordinary hay car is used. The wheat is hoisted from the middle of the shed and worked toward the end where the grain is to be stored. One bin is at each end.

The hopper is built of inch pine, heavily reinforced at the corners with angle iron and supported by round pieces of steel, which cross in the middle and are attached to the rope leading to the hay-ford car. The hopper holds 10 bushels, but it has been found better to operate it with about 8 bushels. In other words, about a quarter of a ton of wheat is hoisted at each load.

With the hopper the wheat is more quickly moved from wagon bed to bin, and a great amount of shoveling is saved. Arriving over the bin,

ADVANTAGES OF BEE KEEPING POINTED OUT

vides a Food

FACTOR IN AGRICULTURE

Lafayette, Ind., March 11—The advantage of bee keeping are pointed out in a bulletin issued by Prof. J. J. Davis, of the Purdue University department of entomology.

"Beekeeping is not only an industry for profit but in addition it provides a food of merit—a product which would otherwise be lost," he says.

"Bees are one of the governing factors in profitable agriculture in cross-pollinating the flowers of fruits, vegetables and many forage crops, and the honey bee is the only dependable agency in this important work."

The nature and value of honey, the importance of cross-pollination of fruits and flowers, and the conservation of the nectar of flowers in the form of honey are discussed in the bulletin.

a slide is removed from the bottom and the wheat runs out—the same system used by a miller when he fills a sack. The shed in which the cribs and bins are located is about 27 by 48 feet, with the drive the long way and the corn cribs of about 1,500 bushel capacity on each side.

due to three chills and two fires." Mr. E. J. Reeves.

"Not a single chick was lost under 10 days of age because of disease. Losses include 19 cripples and weak, which were killed; 12 from raps, crows, etc."—Mrs. Rabe. "If I had a single chicken to die from white diarrhea, I did not know it. My losses were due to wet weather."—Mrs. J. J. Pratt.

"Although my records do not show it, I am a firm believer in the blood test. I lost a few chickens due to brooder pneumonia. 50 per cent of my hatch came from pullets."—Mrs. Marsh.

"I had practically no losses under 10 days of age. Most of my losses came when chicks were about 3 weeks of age, and was due to wet weather, rats and other vermin. I feel that the blood test is alright."—Mrs. John S. Thomas.

"We had practically no losses from B. W. D."—Mrs. E. E. Brooks. "I lost only 6 chickens under one week of age."—Mrs. Perry Wickard. "My report is convincing to me. I got results."—Mrs. Kittle.

It seems that the blood test is giving returns in controlling losses due to Bacillary White Diarrhea. Many farmers in Rush county have had their flocks tested during the past few weeks and it is hoped that within another year there will be similar statements to those given above from poultry raisers in Rush county.

plant his 1925 crop.

One progressive farmer in the county, selected a large quantity of seed last year. He stored this in an upstairs room of his house which was well ventilated during the early fall and did not expose the corn to the extreme low temperature during the Christmas holidays.

The average farmer would be more than pleased to have such a quantity of seed to select from this season. However, this farmer is not stopping with these precautions but by the modified rag doll test he is eliminating 25 per cent of the ears which shows the weakest sprouts. This should insure a good yield this coming summer.

A question which could well be asked most farmers is—"When do you determine whether you have a stand of corn?" The common answer would be—"that the stand is determined immediately after the corn comes through the ground." Such is not the answer—the farmer who tests his seed will give you. He has gone a step farther and determines his stand by the number of barren stalks at shucking time.

more per litter.

By a study of these figures it is learned that there is an average difference of three pigs per litter between the group of farmers where cleaning the farrowing pens was the only sanitary precaution and the group of farmers where all four precautions were practiced. In view of this the county swine committee elected by the hog growers at their February meeting have outlined a method which will be called Rush County's pig management system. The rules suggested are as follows:

1. Clean out all straw and manure in farrowing pens prior to farrowing season.

2. Wash farrowing pens thoroughly with hot water and lye. Using about one-half can of lye to thirty-five to forty gallons of water.

3. Scrub off the brood sow's udders with warm water and soap be-

PORTLAND SETS RECORD

Twelve Different Cities and Towns Given Courses by Purdue University This Year

Lafayette, Ind., March 11—"A Miniature Purdue" was carried to 22,479 persons over Indiana during the last three months through the special short courses conducted by the Agricultural Extension Department of Purdue University. Twelve different cities and towns were given the courses this year with an average registered attendance of 1873 adults at each place.

Portland established an attendance record for all short courses ever held in the state, with 3380 different persons, breaking the mark set just prior to that by Alexandria, with 3036 in attendance. The other places where courses were held during the season and the attendance follows: Batesville 2619; Sullivan, 713; Salem, 1485; Washington 1975; Veedsburg, 1745; Culver, 1153; North Judson, 1557; Huntington, 2650; Kentland, 1253; Richmond, 1242. Last year, the total attendance was 1462, with an average of 1220.

A feature of the courses this year has been a joint banquet for farmers and merchants in each place as the closing event. This has sort of topped off the lectures and demonstrations by the Purdue men and women and has been spoken of highly in the different towns and cities. G. M. Frier, in charge of this work for the extension division, reports that several towns and cities have asked for the special short courses for next year. Only a third of those seeking them during the past winter could be accommodated because of lack of speakers.

LAFAYETTE KIWANIS BACKS SPUDS CLUB

A plan for supporting a Boys' Potato Club by the LaPorte Kiwanis Club has been adopted 22 Kiwanis members co-operating in the plans thereby providing for 22 boys to be in the club. Besides furnishing certified seed potatoes, each Kiwanis gives $1 to the cash premium list. A silver loving cup will be presented to the champion potato grower. A local paper commented as follows: "President George Allen has an idea that he is going to spring before the Club soon. The farmer and his welfare has a big place in the program of Kiwanis. The farmer's boy has a still bigger place. Here is what George proposes: Let ten Kiwanians provide ten farmer boys with four bushels each of certified seed potatoes, these boys to be selected by and work under the direction of Kiwanian Mansfield, County Agent, to plant the potatoes and then compete with each other in raising the biggest, best crop. Each of the ten Kiwanians belonging to the Spud Club is to receive back from his farmer boy at harvest time four bushels of potatoes for his winter's use—Who will join a Spud Club?"

HULLESS OATS ARE NOT RECOMMENDED

Variety is More Susceptible to Loose Smut Than Any of the Varieties Tested

LATE MATURING QUALITIES

Many Inquiries Received at Purdue Station About Variety Which is Being Advertised

The Soils and Crops Department of the Purdue Agricultural Experiment Station is receiving inquiries about Hulless oats which is being advertised by a number of seedsmen. For several years this department has tested Hulless oats in comparison with varieties of common oats. The yield of Hulless oats ranged from 192 to 1132 pounds and averaged 537 pounds of grain per acre. The yield of Swedish Select, a variety of common oats grown under identical conditions, ranged from 1632 to 2400 pounds and averaged 1904 pounds of grain per acre. Deducting 30 percent for hull from the average yield of Swedish Select, it still produced 1333 pounds of kernels per acre, which is 2 1-2 times the amount produced by the Hulless, states Prof. A. T. Wiancko, head of the soils and crops department.

Hulless oats are more susceptible to loose smut than any of the varieties tested at the Experiment Station. Without seed treatment, the crop may be expected to be badly infested with this disease.

Mid-season oats are the most profitable for the oat growing sections of Indiana. Varieties materially earlier or later than such varieties as Minota, Big Four, Silckermine or Swedish Select will average considerably less in yield. The Hulless variety will average an acre later than these varieties. This difference alone is sufficient to eliminate it as a profitable variety for this State. Unless a market can be found that will pay 5 1-3 cents when ordinary oats are selling at 1 1-2 cents a pound, farmers will be growing Hulless oats merely to satisfy their curiosity rather than for the profit there is in this crop.

BRONZE TROPHY UP FOR ALL STOCKMEN

Buffalo Trophy to be Awarded Community Doing Best Livestock Work This Year

WILL BE GIVEN ANNUALLY

When a Certain Group Wins it Three Times it Will Become Their Permanent Property

Lafayette, Ind., Mar. 11—A handsome bronze buffalo trophy will be awarded the community or township in Indiana doing the best livestock work this year, according to plans worked out by the Indiana Livestock Breeders' Association and the Agricultural Extension Department of Purdue University. The trophy which will be known as the Jenkins' Buffalo Trophy, because it has been donated by R. C. Jenkins, of Orleans, President of the stockmen's association, will be given annually until it becomes the permanent property of the group winning it three times.

The combined membership of the pig, calf and lamb clubs, Hoosier Ton Litter Club, Gold Medal Sheep Club and 1000-Pound Calf Club are eligible to score in connection with this project. Membership and work completed are the items that make up the score in awarding the trophy.

The total membership enrolled by a school or township organization in these clubs scores as follows:

- Each member from 1 to 10 inclusive — 1 point
- Each member from 11 to 25 inclusive — 3 points
- Each member from 26 to 40 inclusive — 5 points
- Each member from 40 up—10 points

The work completed by members of the various clubs mentioned will count the following points towards winning the trophy.

Each boys' and girls' club project completed, 10 points. Each litter, calf or flock that reaches the bronze medal goal, 5 points. Each litter, calf or flock that reaches the silver medal goal, 10 points. Each litter, calf or flock that reaches the gold medal mark, 20 points.

In recent years many of the good livestock communities have claimed outstanding honors for their particular section. In fact, these localities are found in every county in Indiana. The Jenkins' Buffalo Trophy will be awarded for the first time at the annual meeting of the Indiana Livestock Breeders' Association in January, 1926, at Purdue University.

This project is open to schools, farm bureaus, Granges, farmers' clubs and other agricultural community clubs. Entries must be in the hands of F. G. King, Secretary of the Indiana Livestock Breeders' Association, Lafayette, Indiana, before April 1.

County Agricultural agents and vocational teachers throughout Indiana have been sent complete information about the trophy. Information can also be obtained from the Purdue University Agricultural Extension Department or the Livestock Breeders' Association, Lafayette, Ind.

This will be used to finance next year's club. During the Corn Show the Boy's Corn Club Committee will hold a corn auction, where more than 100 farmers will have an opportunity to purchase a basket of select seed. Since Corn Club members are entering into Club work with ambitions to assist in making Rush County's corn program a success it is quite necessary that the farmers in each township, as well as the business men, show an active interest in the boy's work from time to time.

40,000 ACRES OF SOYBEANS GROWN

Fifteen Hundred Acres of That Amount Have Been Certified For Seed by Growers' Association

SEED SOLD OUT OF STATE

Certification Requires That Seed be Pure as to Variety and Free From Disease

Approximately 40,000 acres of soybeans were grown in 1924 for seed purposes in Indiana of which 150 acres have been certified by the Indiana Corn Growers' Association and will supply as fine seed as can be obtained anywhere, said K. E. Beeson of the Soils and Crops department of Purdue University in a talk broadcasted from the Purdue Station W.B. A. A. The acreage last year was only a little more than the acreage in 1923. A year ago many farmers delayed buying their seed until the Indiana supply was practically exhausted. As a result, they were forced to buy inferior seed in some cases and at the same time pay a high price for it. Already some of the Indiana seed stock is being sold out of the state, and farmers expecting to buy good beans should not delay until the better seed stock is exhausted.

Much of the seed sold in Indiana in the past has been badly mixed. As a result, growers have not been satisfied with the uneven maturing of their crops, and have discredited soybeans, while the fault really lay with the impurity of the variety. Certified seed is tending to improve the general quality of seed used. Certification requires that the seed be pure as to variety, free from disease, carefully re-cleaned, and that it germinate at least 90 per cent. As a consequence, no finer seed is being placed on the market than certified soybeans. Farmers can obtain a list of the certified seed growers from their county agents or by writing to the Secretary of the Indiana Corn Growers' Association at Lafayette.

FARM BUREAU WON A TWO YEAR FIGHT

Lindley Cooperative Marketing Bill
Carrying Emergency Clause,
Signed by Gov. Jackson

WHAT THE LAW PROVIDES

Act Gives Indiana Farmers an Opportunity to Operate Co-Operative Marketing Associations

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 11.—The Indiana Farm Bureau Federation won a two year fight when Governor Ed Jackson signed the Lindley co-operative marketing bill. The bill carried an emergency clause, and thus became a law on the Governor's signature. The Lindley bill was introduced in Indiana Senate on January 14, at the same time that an identical bill, by Representatives Murden and Hull, was introduced in the House. The House bill was passed first, but reaching the Senate without amendments agreed to in committee, the Senate bill was substituted. It passed the Senate 37 to 2, only Senators O'Rourke, of Fort Wayne, and Perkins, of South Bend, voting against it. The bill then passed in the House 91 to 0, and sent to the Governor. The Governor received the bill February 20.

"The Lindley co-operative marketing bill, which has just been signed by Governor Jackson, represents two years of effort and careful study on the part of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation, aided by loyal members of the Indiana legislature," said a statement on the bill given out by William H. Settle, president of the Federation. "The bill as passed is the bill the Farm Bureau desired to have passed, such minor changes as were made in the original measure having been approved and agreed to by the Farm Bureau.

"The enactment of this legislation closes a two year fight for a co-operative marketing law in Indiana. Once before, in the 1923 legislature, the Farm Bureau succeeded in carrying through the legislature a co-operative marketing bill. As is generally known this bill, reaching Governor Warren T. McCray near the close of the session, was permitted to die a natural death as the session ended. Since that time the Farm Bureau has been at work on the new measure, similar in many respects to the 1923 bill, but free of a number of the provisions against which the strongest protest was made at that time. Practically every provision in the present bill has withstood all attack in court in one state or another.

"The act gives the Indiana farmers an opportunity, fully clothed in legality, and fully protected by statute, to operate co-operative marketing associations, and they will greet the enactment of this statute with gratification."

REGISTERED SIRES REPLACE 751 SCRUBS

This Replacement Compares Favorably With Report Year Ago When 464 Were Reported

NUMBER OF REASONS GIVEN

Cow Testing Associations Brought About Truer Knowledge of Productive Ability

By R. D. CANAN

(Dairy Extension Staff Purdue University)

The annual report just received from 76 of the County Agricultural Agents indicate that 751 scrub and grade dairy sires in Indiana have been replaced with registered dairy sires during the past year. This replacement compares favorably with the report a year ago, when 80 counties reported 464 registered dairy animals replacing an equal number of scrub or grade sires.

This increase of 62 per cent in the number of scrub sires replaced in 1924 in comparison with the number replaced in 1923 is due to several conditions. First, the marked increase in the number of Cow Testing Associations has brought about a truer knowledge of the productive ability of a great many of Indiana's dairy cows and as a result more of the dairymen are appreciating the importance of better sires, in order to obtain more economical production of dairy products. Second, the price of dairy cattle during the past year has been such that many dairymen felt that they could well afford to purchase a good sire at the prevailing prices. Breeders of pure bred dairy cattle are to be congratulated on the help they have given the pure bred sire industry, through the reasonable prices now placed on dairy sires. Finally the railroads, Farm Bureau organizations, Breed Associations, and County Agricultural Agents have conducted better organized programs dealing with the importance of discontinuing use of scrub and grade sires.

The efforts to reduce the number of scrub and grade sires in Indiana has been productive of good results; progress has been slow, but certain. Now that the movement has gained an definite momentum, it is hoped that the future will see even greater progress made in the removal of one of the dairy industry's greatest drawbacks—the scrub sire.

The EASY Vacuum Electric WASHER

1—The "Easy"

washes by air pressure and suction. It is thorough and easy on the clothes. No friction or rubbing. The revolving vacuum cups, moving up and down sixty times per minute flush the water directly through the meshes of the garments, carrying away every particle of dirt without danger to the finest fabrics. The "EASY" is a source of satisfaction — not an annoyance. It washes rapidly, saves time, energy and clothes.

2—The "Easy"

is attractive and sanitary because it is made entirely of metal — there is nothing to warp. There are no corners, seams or crevices in the round, smooth tank to collect dirt. The smooth polished surfaces inside and outside are easy to keep clean and sanitary. Is dependable and built to give years of satisfaction and service.

3—Wringer

With aluminum frame swings to four positions and enables operator to wring clothes while washing. Equipped with instantaneous safety release. Extra wide spread between rolls when released. All gears are safely enclosed — no exposed mechanism at any part of the machine. The aluminum frame will not warp or bend, as it does not absorb water. It is sanitary and easy to keep clean.

4—Extreme Simplicity

Makes it easy to operate and care for. The large open tank is convenient for putting in and taking out the clothes. Tank can be filled and emptied by hose connection or piping. No heavy parts to lift, therefore, it is within woman's strength to operate.

Honored with highest award at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. Approved by Good-Housekeeping Institute and New York Tribune Institute.

5—The "Easy"

is fully equipped, ready for immediate service. To start machine it is only necessary to fasten plug at end of motor cord into electric light socket or service outlet, and turn on current at the switch.

6—With the "Easy"

there is less fuss getting started and less cleaning up after the washing is completed. Every owner of an "EASY" is proud of it.

7—The New Gas Heater

As will be seen from illustration, the gas heater swings out from under tank, making it easy to light, without stooping or reaching under tank. After lighting, it swings under tank and heats the water, maintaining an even temperature while washing. When washer is not in use, the heater can be lifted out of socket and hung on wall out of the way, without detaching hose connection. It can be suspended from a bracket attached to the wall, and serve the same purpose as a gas stove in the laundry for heating water, starch, flatirons, and many other things. Burner has both air and gas adjustments, making it adaptable for both artificial and natural gas. Patents applied for.

BILLINGS HELD IN DETROIT JAIL

Former Union Township Farmer
Faces Removal to Newcastle for
Trial on Bank Charge

EXTRADITION PAPERS OUT

Accused of Issuing Fraudulent
Statements to Get Credit—May
Fight Removal to Indiana

George F. Billings, Union township farmer who has been missing for a year, and whose estate has been in court involving bankruptcy, is detained in jail in Detroit, Mich., and is to be removed to Newcastle to face trial in the Henry circuit court.

The charge against him is issuing fraudulent statements in order to obtain credit, and the injured party is represented by the First National bank of Lewisville. Judge Rufus Hinshaw of the Henry circuit court in a communication today, stated that he had signed extradition papers and presented them to the governor for his removal to this state.

It was intimated that Billings has resented extradition procedure and will fight his removal from that city, making it necessary for the governors of the two states to pass upon it.

Billings left home a year ago, disappearing mysteriously at the time, and after his departure several law suits were filed here against him, which disclosed that his financial condition was bankrupt, and mortgages were involved to a great extent.

It has been known for several days that Billings was detained in Detroit, but this was not confirmed until today. It is understood that a charge of issuing fraudulent statements in order to obtain credit was filed in this county before George Clark, justice of the peace for Center township, and a warrant issued.

In this instance, it was stated that the Mays National bank was the injured party, and it is understood that Billings was arrested on this affidavit, with the proceedings by the Lewisville bank being followed in the Henry circuit court.

The extradition papers and the necessary steps to secure his removal to this state, are being made through Newcastle, and it may be several days before the prisoner is released to this state.

SHAKE-UP IS EXPECTED TO MATERIALIZE TODAY

Governor Jackson Calls Conference
With Members of Highway Commission This Afternoon

MAY ASK WILLIAMS TO QUIT

Indianapolis, Ind., March 11—The long expected shake-up in the state house was expected to materialize this afternoon at a conference called by Governor Jackson with members of the highway commission.

Persons close to the governor said Jackson would ask for the resignation of John D. Williams, director, and all members with the possible exception of Alvan Burch of Evansville.

Williams, who is under indictment charged with embezzlement in the sale of war materials by the commission, said he did not think the governor would ask him to step out.

Earl Crawford, another commission member under indictment, indicated he thought the governor would demand the resignation.

It was reported that Harry Leslie of Lafayette, speaker of the house of representatives, had been offered the job of highway director but had refused.

If the present personnel of the commission is ousted, jobs of 1,500 employees of the department loyal to Williams, will be endangered, it was said.

Reduction in Passenger Fares of
One-Third Effective Sunday

The Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company today met serious competition with announcement of a cut of approximately one-third in round trip passenger rates.

The reduction becomes effective Sunday and as intended as an experiment to see if it will help business, according to Charles Henry, president of the traction company.

Operators of busses competing with the Indianapolis and Cincinnati traction company for passenger business announced they would make no reduction in their rates to meet the intruder.

Other traction companies are considering similar reductions.

COOLIDGE TO DROP FIGHT FOR WARREN

President Represented in Senate
Circles as Intending to Seek New
Attorney General

REJECTION UNEXPECTED

Coolidge Will Reserve Decision on
Next Step Until After He Con-
fers With Warren

Detroit, Mich. March 11—Charles B. Warren, who was rejected by the senate yesterday as attorney general, left today for a conference with President Coolidge at Washington. Warren said his presence was requested by the president.

By PAUL R. MALLON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, March 11—President Coolidge will submit a new nomination for attorney general to the senate before it adjourns. Republican leaders declared today, after a conference with the president at the White House.

Furthermore, in the opinion of Senator Cummins, Iowa, it will be approved by the senate at this extra session. As for the likelihood of the president resubmitting the name of Charles B. Warren, who was refused confirmation in a dramatic session of the senate late yesterday, Cummins said:

"It would be hopeless with the present lineup in the senate. I don't know of any who might be expected now to change their vote of yesterday."

The president will reserve his decision on his next step in filling the post of attorney general until he has conferred with Warren, it was indicated at the White House.

Warren is understood to have been asked to confer with the President at the White House tomorrow. Senator Cummins ventured his conviction after President Coolidge had summoned him, as well as Senator Moses, New Hampshire, Reed, Pennsylvania, Smoot, Utah, and Watson, Indiana for a conference at the White House. He declined to say however, whether or not the president had indicated he has considered resubmitting Warren's name.

"There will be a new attorney general before the present session of the senate adjourns," was the only positive light Cummins would throw on the situation.

NOW THEN, LET 'EM FIGHT IT OUT

ADMITS THEFT, ASKS CLEMENCY

Wade Treischman, Age 26 Confesses
Guilt on Grand Jury Charge of
Grand Larceny

IS AT MERCY OF THE JURY

State Demands Full Punishment Al-
though Gun Was Returned to
Owner, Ralph Moffitt

Wade Treischman, age 26, was tried today by a jury in the circuit court on a charge of grand larceny, admitting his guilt before a jury, and seeking clemency. The jury was given the case about 2:20 this afternoon and had not returned a verdict at three o'clock.

Treichman has been in jail for several weeks, following his arrest in Knightstown. The evidence was brief and the defense admitted the facts concerning the theft of a shotgun from Ralph Moffitt, a resident of northern Rush county.

In the argument presented by A. C. Stevens, representing the defendant, a plea for clemency was made before the jury, in which an effort was made to have the jury reduce the charge from that of grand larceny to petit larceny. A plea for recommendation of a suspended sentence also was made to the jury.

The state, in prosecuting the action based on a recent grand jury indictment, was demanding the full extent of punishment for the defendant, that of grand larceny. The gun stolen was valued at $50.

The evidence was that the defendant was accused on the streets in Knightstown recently, and told Moffitt and the officers where they could find the gun at his home, and it was returned to them. It had been taken last October.

The jury which heard the case consisted of the following twelve men: Elmer Caldwell, Elmer Morris, Chester Cross, Elisha Williams, James Dill, E. E. Hungerford, Angus Miller, Leslie Miller, Justus Icece, Bert Heaton, Charles Miller and Ferd Retherford.

Among the new cases filed in court is a complaint for divorce, filed by Rebecca P. Deerin against Johann M. Deerin, the action charging that the defendant was cruel, had a high temper, cursed the plaintiff, and failed to provide. They were married January 24, 1920, and separated February 28, 1925. The parties are residents of Posey township.

A petition has been filed by Bessie Marie Burgoerfer for her adoption by Benjamin and Effie Burgoerfer.

He is said to be wanted on charges of vehicle taking in Bedford.

REVIVAL SERVICES TO OPEN HERE NEXT SUNDAY

BOTH SINGER AND PREACHER

A series of revival services will begin at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday. These services will continue every evening except Saturday until Palm Sunday, April 5. In preparation for these services Dr. J. T. Scull, the district superintendent, will preach on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The quarterly conference will follow the service. On Sunday morning the pastor's sermon will be "What Shall the Harvest Be?" and in the evening, "Those Rusty Keys." He will also preach on Monday evening.

On Tuesday evening, the evangelist, the Rev. T. Edward Thomas of Muncie, will begin his work. Eddie Thomas, as he is familiarly known, is an evangelist of unusual ability, both as singer and as preacher. He has held very successful meetings in many of the largest churches in the state. He recently closed a very successful meeting in Richmond, Ind.

During the meeting at Greensburg about a year ago, there were over two hundred conversions, and accessions to the church. He held very successful meetings last year at the First Church, Shelbyville. He has been called back three years in succession at the First Church, Columbus, Ind. During these meetings several hundred have been converted and have united with the church. At Vevay there were one hundred and twenty-five conversions. He comes with the highest recommendations from all who have had his services in their churches. A great meeting that will bring permanent results for good to all the churches in Rushville is anticipated.

BERT WILSON FOUND GUILTY

Convicted on Charge of Assault and
Battery With Intent to Kill by
Circuit Court Jury

JUDGE TO PASS SENTENCE

Jurors Refuse to Believe Shooting
Was Accidental and Found Him
Guilty in 20 Minutes

Bert Wilson, age 49, was found guilty in circuit court late Tuesday afternoon by a jury, on the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill, and sentence will be passed shortly by Judge Sparks.

The case got under way Monday before the jury, and was given over to them for a verdict at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon, requiring only 20 minutes for a verdict of guilty. The sentence is provided in such cases, and will be passed by Judge Sparks.

The state convicted the defendant upon the charge, following an alleged controversy at the Wilson home, 826 North Sexton street, early one Sunday morning recently, when Wilson was charged with coming home, and shooting his wife, Maggie Wilson.

The state, by Prosecutor Ketchum, showed to the jury, according to the decision reached in their verdict, that he fired at his wife with the intention of killing her. The injury was not of a serious nature and Mrs. Wilson has recovered.

The state was confronted with an unusual circumstance in connection with the case, because the wife and daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Brooks, sole witnesses to the shooting, were more favorable in their testimony for the defendant and were reluctant in prosecuting the charge.

The arguments were given to the jury by the defendant's attorneys, A. C. Stevens, and Raymond Springer, during which an attempt was made to show that the shooting was accidental, and that the gun was discharged in such a position that no direct aim could have been taken at the woman. The jury, however, failed to see it in this light, and on the third ballot convicted him on the charge.

SENATOR FROM WYOMING TELLS OF NEGOTIATIONS

John B. Hendrick First Witness
Called at Today's Session of Tea-
pot Dome Suit

HE WAS ASKED TO SEE FALL

(By United Press)

Federal Court Room, Cheyenne, Wyo., Mar. 11—John B. Hendrick, United States senator from Wyoming was the first witness called at today's session of the government's suit to break the lease of the Mammoth oil company on the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve.

Kendrick testified he received a telegram from Leslie Miller of Cheyenne on April 7, 1922, asking Kendrick to inquire of former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall if the department of interior would consider application for a lease on part of Teapot Dome.

Kendricks said he brought the matter to the department's attention, and on April 14, Miller wired him again, asking him to again inquire of the interior department about considering an application for a lease on part of the reserve.

Kendricks was questioned by Atlee Pomerene, former United States senator from Ohio. Kendrick said he did not know of the Teapot Dome lease at the time of Miller's telegram and said that a letter from H. Boster Bain, director of the bureau of mines, on April 10 stated that no definite contracts had been made in connection with naval oil reserves No. 1 and 2 in California and No. 3 in Wyoming.

On April 18, Kendrick said he received a telegram from former Governor B. B. Brooks of Wyoming on behalf of the Rocky Mountain Oil and Gas producers association of Casper, urging the Wyoming delegation to take action preventing consummation of the Teapot Dome lease.

NEW HARMONY BANK ROBBED

Four Bandits Sought Throughout Southern Indiana

New Harmony, Ind., Mar. 11.—Four bandits who robbed the New Harmony Bank and Trust company of $5,000 late yesterday were hunted throughout southern Indiana today.

The bandits entered the bank a few minutes before closing time and knocked Frank Steelman, cashier, unconscious when he refused to open the vault.

Mrs. Grace Schultz was forced to open the vault and two customers were locked in a back room while the bandits looted the vault.

The robbers fled in an auto toward Evansville.

Weather No Interference

Stormy weather does not interfere with attendance at revival services. Tuesday night the prayer service at the Wesley M. E. church was at its height. The fervent preaching by the pastor from the text: Numbers 14:23 and Luke 23:43 on the subject "Two of the Most Thrilling Stories of the Bible," had its effect on one unsaved man, who found his way to the altar for altar service.

Those who are missing these services are certainly missing a treat, it is pointed out. The pastor will speak each night.

 learned, informed the president that Warren's nomination, if resubmitted, could not be confirmed and they left with the impression that Mr. Coolidge is convinced he must seek another man. There was no hint either at the White House or senate as to whom he would select.

President Coolidge's nomination of Charles B. Warren to be attorney general is the sixth cabinet nomination ever to be rejected by the senate. The last previous rejection was Andrew Johnson's—that of Henry Stannard, Ohio, to be attorney general in 1868.

Warren, according to information reaching senate Republican leaders does not wish the President to resubmit his nomination and would not accept a recess appointment. For the present no move is expected from the White House in the dramatic series of events which led to the senate's unexpected rejection of the nomination late yesterday by a vote of 41 to 39.

The action was a complete reversal of all that had been expected and even now Republican leaders feel that they have a majority if their full strength was present—including Vice President Charles G. Dawes, whose absence from the chamber at the critical voting moment was chiefly responsible for the defeat.

Dawes was resting at his hotel apartment when frantic word came to him from the capitol that the senate was tied, 40-40, over the confirmation of the Warren nomination and for him to take a taxicab and hurry to the senate chamber. He did. His secretary met him at the door. A special elevator was waiting for him. He was ushered in and still breathing hard from his run when he mounted the rostrum.

But just as he came in, Senator Overman, Democrat, North Carolina, in response to earnest pleadings from Senator Warren, Montana Democrat, who led the fight against Warren, agreed to change his vote.

Dawes' entry came just a second too late. Overman by his switch, prevented reconsideration of the vote by which the nomination was rejected.

Under the law Mr. Coolidge may not submit the nomination if he and Warren so desires. It could follow the usual course and come up for action like a new nomination, but the fight previously made would be but a brawl compared with the battle that would be waged now that the opposition sees an opportunity to defeat the nomination.

The other course is to wait until after the senate adjourns, leaving Solicitor Beck in charge of the department of justice. After adjournment Mr. Coolidge can make a recess appointment.

ILL WITH PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Frank Windler, of Indianapolis, and formerly of this city, is seriously ill with pneumonia, according to word received here by Mrs. John Boyd.

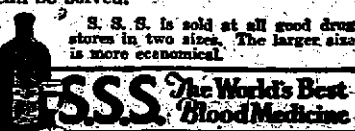

—to build up Weight!

ANY WOMAN, any man, can now have a well-developed face and form. The whole, simple secret of a well-developed form is in the number of blood-cells in your body. You can now forget all the theoretical talk about diet, exercise, fat treatments, food-fats and fat-foods. Nothing is of any use, after all, except blood-cells!

Thin, run-down men and women, with bony necks, sunken cheeks, bony shoulders—all these are suffering from one thing—too few blood-cells. Science has proved that S.S.S. helps to make the rich red blood-cells, which you need. Your blood is starving for these new blood-cells! Give your blood the blood-cells it needs—take S.S.S. the great scientific blood-cell maker. S.S.S. has done marvels, too, in making beautiful complexions, clearing the skin, making lips rosy red, the cheeks full and plump—because it rids the blood of impurities which cause pimples, blackheads, acne, blotches, eczema, tetter, rash and rheumatism, too. As the medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable, it may be taken with perfect safety. This is why S.S.S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women a plus in their strength. Start taking S.S.S. today and your great problem, that of your personal appearance, can be solved.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

The Omniscient Guide—The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord. Psalm 37: 23.

Prayer:—Enlighten us, O Lord, to study thy word faithfully. Then it shall be a lamp to our feet and a guide to our path.

A Sad Commentary

It is a sad commentary on politics that L. O. Hamilton had to withdraw from the race for the nomination for mayor on the republican ticket in Indianapolis, because politics has become a profession, and the time required in building up an organization, and the expense involved, makes it impractical for a business man to attempt to run for office.

He reached this conclusion after having become a candidate and having made a survey of the situation. He said in announcing his withdrawal:

"To be successful in politics, one must play the game all the time. It is not possible to get into one campaign and make a successful race without the support of one or the other of the existing organizations. In the course of two or more campaigns a man might build an independent organization, sufficiently powerful to be successful. The cost of such an organization would be tremendous, and I have neither the inclination to pay it myself nor to ask my friends to contribute to it."

It is unhappy day for the people of any community when capable business men feel that they can not make the sacrifice required to perform a service to their community by holding public office.

But the people themselves who have countenanced the kind of politics in vogue today are alone to blame. They have listened to the false charges of the demagogues, who have accused party organizations of political crimes, in order to advance their own interests.

One of the results of this trend in politics was the discrediting of the old convention system and the substituting of the direct primary, which has been responsible for many of our political ills.

In the days of the convention plan of nominating candidates, the party was responsive to the needs of the people and endeavored to select men who had qualifications for office. Then one campaign was all a candidate had to make.

With the primary system, to win an office, a candidate must go

Loosen Up That Cold With Musterole

Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all of the advantages of grandmother's mustard plaster WITHOUT the blister. You just apply it with the fingers. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients, Musterole is recommended by many nurses and doctors. Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, croup, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colds of the chest. It may prevent pneumonia and "flu."

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

through two strenuous campaigns, and he has to resort to every device known to professional politics. He also has to spend large sums of money. He has to line up, as Mr. Hamilton points out, with this or that clique, which is organized down to the smallest political unit. Generally a professional politician leads the organization, and instead of party government, we have personal government with office holders all too often subservient to the dictates of the political boss instead of the people.

Idle Forest Land

There are about eighty million acres of idle forest land in the United States that should be at work. Eight million acres of idle forest land comes into being every year through man-caused forest fires.

It is plain where this would lead to without a fixed forestry policy that will build up our timber at least in small proportion to the rate at which it is being reduced.

This is the purpose of the annual observance of American Forest Week, which President Coolidge has proclaimed for April 27 to May 3. Farmers especially should awake to the country's forest needs. One-third of all our forest land is in the form of farm woodlots and small holdings. Farmers also are the greatest single class of wood-users.

Here in Rush county the most casual observer has seen the way forest land has been cut over. Hundreds upon hundreds of trees are cut out annually and none is planted to take their place.

The Indiana department of conservation has been preaching reforestation and also has been doing some constructive work in this direction in the southern part of the state.

But the problem of our diminishing forests will never be solved by state and federal agencies. It is one for every land owner to consider most seriously.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican Friday, March 11, 1910

At the regular yearly meeting of the members of the Social Club in their rooms last night the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Ab-Denning president; Will Jones, first vice president; Alvan Moor, secretary and Birney Spradling, treasurer.

The high school basketball team left this afternoon for Hope, Bartholomew county, to take on the high school five of that city for the last game of the season.

William Bainbridge, former sheriff of Rush county, is a member of the federal grand jury in Indianapolis, which late yesterday evening returned a verdict of guilty against Paul C. Gall, charged with aiding and abetting Max P. Emerich in abstracting the funds of the Capital National Bank of that city, and also with aiding and abetting Emerich in making false entries in the books of the bank after being out three hours.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Although Nick Longworth will not officially be elected or seated as speaker until the new House assembles next December, political oracles already have doped out for him the next step in his career.

From speaker, according to the "dope," he is to move up to a senatorship. There he would be counted upon to remain as a fixture, since even Nick's closest friends scarcely cast him in the role of a presidential possibility.

While Longworth has proved himself politically invincible in his home bailiwick of Cincinnati, having been defeated there but once in 20 years—and that in the Wilson year of 1912—he never has faced a test of strength in a state campaign.

Elements of popularity which have made him strong in his home district might hinder rather than help in an election in which the voters of the whole state had a voice.

A period in the speakership, it is believed, may give Longworth new prestige among his "folks back home" and win for him recognition as a distinguished Ohioan rather than merely as a favored son of Cincinnati.

WHILE Longworth has been known and liked in the House for his own ability and personality, he is still known by the rank and file of his fellow Buckeyes, outside of Cincinnati, because of his "in-laws."

He is still identified, over the state at large, either as "President Roosevelt's son-in-law," or as "Alice Roosevelt's husband."

In addition, due to the fact that "wet" Cincinnati has so persistently returned him to the House, he is regarded by the upstate "drys" as satisfactory to and representative of "wet" interests in Ohio.

Up to the present these have been regarded as barriers across the path of Nick's advancement to the Senate.

With the prestige of the speakership to his credit, however, it is believed Longworth may feel sufficiently fortified in the esteem of all Ohio Republicans to make the try for the Senate either two or four years hence.

WORD has reached Washington that "Alfalfa Bill" Murray's freak farm colony, down in the wilds of Bolivia, is on the rocks.

"Alfalfa Bill" was one of the striking characters in Congress a dozen years ago. He was a member at large from Oklahoma, and his tousled shock of wiry hair, his sweeping "buck-horn" moustache and his ever-present quid of chewing tobacco did much to give variety and color to the congressional landscape.

Following his defeat for a third term, Murray negotiated a concession of 20,000 acres from the federal government and led a band of pioneers, for whom Oklahoma had grown too civilized, into the South American wilds.

But lack of rainfall, lack of roads, lack of markets and too much jungle has wrecked Bill's dream of a tropical Utopia.

Style Show a Success

The style show which was conducted at the Princess theatre on Monday and Tuesday evening of this week, by E. R. Cassidy's store, attracted large crowds each evening and much favorable comment was heard on the attraction. Several models displayed the latest styles in coats, dresses and ensemble suits. In connection with the fashion show, a picture entitled "Fifth Avenue Models," was shown.

Shirley Mason at Castle

Hypnotism plays a prominent part in "Curlytop," the latest starring vehicle of Shirley Mason which comes to the Castle Theatre today for a run of two days.

In the picture Curlytop (Shirley Mason) is cast as a waif living in the notorious Limehouse district of London. The fact that she is different from the rest of the girls causes her to become an object of special attention.

Tom Brannigan, an outcast of civilization, is intrigued by the girl's freshness and beauty and to him she recalls brighter and happier days.

To Shanghai Dan, a white man who has lived among the orientals for so long a time that he has really lost his identity, the girl is a new toy. Versed in the devious arts of the Orientals he is an adept at hypnotism and attempts to win the girl by the power of the eye.

Just what happens eventually and the many dramatic incidents that occur during the action of the play, is familiar to those who have read "Curlytop" which is one of the notable stories of Thomas Burke.

Limehouse Nights, the most widely read volume of stories of the past year.

Wallace MacDonald, Warner Oland, Diana Miller, George Kuwa, Ernest Adams, Nora Hayden, and LaVerne Lindsay support Miss Mason.

Colleen Moore at Princess

From extra parts to leading lady within a few short years is the unusual experience that has come to Colleen Moore, winsome screen actress whose career reads like a fairy story. It is not so long ago since Miss Moore was waiting in studio offices hoping that the day would bring some work and a step nearer her ambition.

One of her first big parts was to play opposite John Barrymore in "The Lotus Eater." The picture gave her the opportunity she sought and her talent was recognized. She has been playing leading parts ever since until her ability attracted the notice of Oliver Morosco.

The famous producer of "The Bat" was looking for a feminine lead for Wheeler Oakman in his latest picture to be released as a First National attraction, "Slippy McGee." He wired Miss Moore, who was then in the east, of the opportunity and within an hour she had made reservations on the transcontinental limited.

"Slippy McGee" is perhaps the biggest and most exacting role that has fallen to her lot. In it she is called upon to portray a girl who is responsible for the reformation of "Slippy," the most notorious safe cracker the country has known.

The part calls for charm and naiveness combined with mature wisdom. How ably it has been done will be seen when "Slippy McGee" opens at the Princess theatre today.

"The Unknown Purple"

"The Unknown Purple" which will be shown at the Mystic Theatre, today is an adaptation of the sensational successful stage play of the same name by Roland West. After playing a solid year on Broadway, New York, it was seen in the principal cities of the country during two succeeding seasons.

The theme is one of mystery, centering about a purple ray of light in which a human being can make himself invisible to the eye. The possessor of this remarkable secret is an inventor, played by Henry B. Walthall, whose wife has betrayed his trust in her and whose best friend has stolen all he possessed and sent him to prison on a false charge. Unrecognized by those who betrayed him, the inventor returns after his prison term, and with the aid of the weird power of making himself invisible, which he possesses proceeds to take a justified vengeance upon them.

In the cast of the production which was personally directed by the author, are Henry B. Walthall, Alice Lake, Stuart Holmes, Helen Ferguson, Ethel Grey Terry, Johnny Arthur, Brinsley Shaw, James Morrison, little Frankie Lee, Richard Wayne and Mike Donlin.

Why Keep On Paying This Tax?

Everybody expects to pay some taxes, but why impose unnecessary taxes on yourself?

Do you realize that every time you drive your car on an unpaved highway you are actually taxing yourself one to four cents a mile?

This is the cost of increased repair, tire and gasoline bills.

Highway research has definitely established these facts.

Each year you tax yourself in this way a good many dollars.

Instead of spending this money for increased transportation costs, why not invest it in Concrete Highways and pay yourself some dividends?

Concrete Roads and Streets pay for themselves in the saving they effect on the cost of motoring.

Their maintenance cost is so low that this saving alone returns good dividends on the investment, year after year.

You are imposing an unnecessary tax on yourself from which you get no return, by failing to work for more Concrete Highways.

Not in a long time have general conditions been so favorable for carrying on such public works as permanent highway building.

Your highway authorities are ready to carry on their share of this great public work. But they must have your support.

Tell them you are ready to invest in more Concrete Highways, now.

'Come in and look'

The interest of the regional at Richmond seems to center on the two final games at night. Most dopesters pick Connersville and Richmond for the 7:30 game and Rushville and Columbus for the 8:30 game. The rest of the games are not expected to be much force, but this is the year of the great unexpected, and there is no telling who might get upset.

AURORA MAY BE A DARK HORSE

Aurora meets Richmond. This Aurora team went into the final game of the tri-state tourney at Cincinnati a few weeks ago. Monrovia won the tourney, beating Aurora 20 to 18. This same Monrovia team gave Martinsville a terrible fight in the sectional last Saturday night, and forced Martinsville to the limit to win by five points. By comparison scores, Aurora may give Richmond a tussle.

Deputy hails from around the southern part of the state and won the sectional at Madison. Connersville is going up against them as a total unknown quantity. That forms the lower bracket of the Richmond regional—Aurora, Richmond, Deputy and Connersville—and only one team will survive for the state finals.

Here is the Bracket That Interests Us

In this other bracket, Shelbyville meets Columbus in the first game at two o'clock. Columbus has won two games this year from Shelbyville, and should win this game. Coach Campbell of Shelbyville is a smooth one, and no doubt has profited by those two former defeats. This game will be hard fought regardless of which one wins. Rushville and Freetown meet next at three o'clock and like Connersville, Rushville is going up against an unknown quantity, and the Lions should not take any chances. From these four teams, only one will go to the state.

Columbus has a new player by the name of Schiner that is a whirlwind. McNamara can handle him in great shape, and if Rushville plays Columbus, you can bet your life that Mae will guard him, and he won't score any 16 points like he did against Shelbyville a few weeks ago.

Then Mae will have another job handling that floor guard on the Freetown team, who has been pointed out as their stellar performer. It looks like a big tourney for Mae.

There will be mighty few centers

NOTICE OF FINAL SETTLEMENT OF ESTATE

Notice is hereby given to the creditors, heirs and legatees of George W. in that entire regional bunch to compare with Lakin. As a matter of fact, there won't be a single one. Lakin has everything that is expected of a center. When it comes to team work, goal shooting and playing the game, he is right on the job.

Arbuckle is coming along fine in that forward position and the way he played those three games in the sectional tourney, making a total of 28 points and playing a wonderful floor game, he is just starting on his stride, and he is going even better in the rest of the journey ahead of the Lions.

Now Arbuckle's running mate, Newbold at forward, is just another one of those players that gets better the farther he goes. His past record indicates that he has the real stuff. The longer a game goes, the more dangerous he is on that basket, and those little shots from down the side, always bring the applause. Bob is truly a wonderful, all-around player and will make any of 'em step some.

A great many teams brag about their state timber for a back guard. Everyone in Rushville knows that Miller can equal any of them, and then he grabs 'em off the bank board and starts down the floor, it either means a basket or else a good start in that direction. Miller has the size, ability and everything. He also has an eye for the basket, and can dribble clear through to the basket for shots. He will no doubt make 'em take notice in those games at Richmond.

McNamara has hit on all eight. In the tourney Mae found his basket eye, but even without an eye for the basket, he is a tower of strength on defense, and floor work. In baseball, a player gets credit for assists, and if that were true in basketball, he would have a longer list than anyone. He gets the ball down the floor, breaks up more plays and works in the midst of all encounters.

There is no discounting the substitutes. Davison, Osborne, Cherry, Wainwright and Readle will no doubt be the selected five, and these fellows fit into many positions. It is a great thing to have players on the bench that can fit in, and relieve one of the regulars.

So far today this column has been devoted to eulogizing the Lions. They deserve a great deal more, and they will get a great deal more, before this thing is over with.

Columbus figures that Shelbyville will be their hardest game. That is just one more reason why Rushville should work the harder and put across a double victory in that tourney.

Here is Another Reason To Win the Tourney

George Purcell of Vincennes is picking Columbus.

Even Markin 'em up of Newcastle is picking Columbus. Let's show 'em all how poor guessers they are, and be one of the two teams to go to the state.

FREETOWN HASN'T A FLOOR TO PLAY UPON

The team that Rushville meets in the first game, is like the Saulskys team in a great many respects. They have the fight, goal shooting and a defense, according to word from the Seymour sectional. Here is more comment concerning the team, and especially about the player, that Mae will have to watch:

The district net tournament had a very dramatic finale here Saturday night when Freetown, a high school without a basketball floor, who upset dope in the semi-finals in the afternoon by defeating the Cortland five, downed the strong county seat team with a score of 20 to 18, and will go to the regionals at Richmond this week. C. Sprague, floor guard, the most outstanding player of the tournament, proved a human whirlwind in the game against Browns-town and led the Freetown quintet through an exciting game, scoring seven field goals and one free throw making a total of 15 of the 20 points made by the Pershing township boys.

125 Boys Enrolled in Rush County Corn Club

BOY'S CORN CLUB IS MAKING PROGRESS

Business Men Selected Five Farmers to Assist in Determining Policies of Club

LIMIT ENROLLMENT TO 125

Due to Increase in Enrollment Amount of Corn Has Been Reduced to 15 Pounds

The Rush County Boy's Corn Club as promoted by the Rushville business men is making excellent progress. The business men's association has selected five farmers from different parts of the county who will assist in determining the general policies of the club during the coming year.

At a meeting of this committee two weeks ago Saturday it was decided definitely to limit the enrollment of the club to 125 boys this year. Originally only 75 boys were expected to join the club. Due to this increase in enrollment the amount of corn furnished each boy has been reduced from 18 2-3 to 15 pounds.

Last Friday the 125 club members were notified of this change and requested to fill out a blank stating that it was satisfactory to reduce the amount of seed which they were to get. The number of ears which the boys are to return has also been reduced from 70 to 60 selected ears. The club enrollment is evenly distributed over Rush county and the committee is planning to take care of as many boys next year as apply for membership.

Those who are familiar with the aims of the county Corn Club can foresee great benefits. Some of

DISPLAY INTEREST IN SEED CORN TESTING

Many Farmers in County Are Testing Quantities of Their Seed and Offering it For Sale

BUILT NEW TESTING BOX

There is more interest in seed corn testing in Rush county, as in other parts of the state this year, than ever before. Many farmers are testing quantities of their seed and offering it for sale. The farmer who has decided that his corn is not strong enough to plant has a perfect right to know the vitality of the corn which he buys. As a result many of the farmers are requiring that corn be tested before they pay seed prices for it.

There are many farmers in Rush county who already have tested all of their own seed and are planning to test some for sale. Their most serious difficulty is taking care of the dolls and keeping the mat a normal heat. To overcome this handicap the Rush County Farm Bureau has built a new testing box, which will take care of 361 dolls each week.

Any Rush county farmer who prepares his own dolls has access to this tester. Paper used in making the modified rag doll can be secured at the County Agent's office at cost. Many Rush county farmers are planning to take advantage of this new tester.

It is hoped that this club plot will become the SEED CORN PATCH FOR THE FARM. 3rd. Each club member should plan Continued on Page Three

PIG MANAGEMENT RULES OUTLINED

Hog Growers of County Make Suggestions For Farmers in Raising Hog Standards Here

CLEANLINESS IS URGED

Is Important Factor in Many Ways to Developing Litters to Reach Ton Litter Stage

One of the first questions asked by the farmer who is entering the hoosier ton litter club for the first time is—"How can I feed this litter of pigs to make sure that they will weigh a ton when 180 days old?" Those who have produced ton litters are quick to inform them that methods of sanitation are of just as much importance, if not more, than questions of feeds.

Dr. G. N. Wickwire, the Federal Veterinarian, for Indiana, who has charge of swine disease control work spent two weeks in Rush county last August. He held two meetings each in 11 of the 12 townships. In these meetings he outlined the life cycle of the intestinal parasites which make pork production unprofitable. He showed that in order to avoid these internal parasites it was necessary to rotate the hog lots the same as the farmer rotates his crops. In so doing, young pigs are on fresh pasture where they will not be permitted to pick up eggs laid by parasites the previous year.

In ton litter club work it has been learned that there is a difference between clean farrowing pens and disinfected pens in favor of the disinfected pens. On the average, farmers who disinfect their pens in addition to cleaning them, have

Any Farmer Suspecting Presence of Poisonous Plants Should Call County Agent

PURDUE MAN WILL COME

In case trouble has been experienced in Rush county from plant poisoning, the service of Albert A. Hansen, a poison plant specialist from the Purdue University Agricultural Extension Department, will be available in the near future, according to an announcement made today by County Agent Van Matre.

There is no question but that a great deal of forage poisoning in Indiana can be attributed to the effects of poisonous plants. The loss of stock in woodland pastures is frequently caused by White snake-root, while water hemlock has caused heavy losses in pastures containing wet or moist places. There are a number of other poisonous species that are causing trouble in the Hoosier State.

Any farmer in the county who suspects the presence of poisonous plants on his farm and who desires the services of the specialist should communicate with County Agent VanMatre at once. The date of the specialist's arrival will be announced in a few days.

raised two-thirds of a pig more to the litter on the average than the farmers who just clean the pens. Where fresh pasture was provided in addition to a disinfected farrowing house, one and eighteen hundredths more pigs per litter were raised. Those farmers who washed off the brood sow's udders in addition to the above precautions raised one and fifteen hundredths pigs Continued on Page Two

County Agent Williams of Johnson County, Will be Here for Demonstration Saturday

BRINGING 130 EARS WITH HIM

Speaker Will Show Methods Used to Select Good Seed Corn, and Keep Quality Above Par

Those interested in putting Rush county at the top have asked Mr. Scott, secretary of the Johnson County Farm Bureau, and O. S. Williams, county agent of Johnson county, to be in Rushville next Saturday and tell of the work which they are doing in that county.

They are planning to bring 130 demonstration ears and 9 demonstration dolls with them which they will use in their talks. They will show so far as is possible the relation of outward characteristics of the ear with the vitality as shown in the rag doll. No corn grower can afford to miss this opportunity. The meeting will be called promptly at 1 o'clock, Saturday, March 14th in the Court Room. During the past five years the farmers of Rush county have been giving much of their attention to economical production of crops. It takes just as long to break and cultivate a field of corn which yields 35 bushels per acre as it does one which yields 75 bushels or more per acre.

There are many factors which enter into and causes variation in yield such as fertility of soil, time of planting, climatic conditions which the farmer is more or less helpless in controlling. However, every Rush county farmer can avail himself of "A No. 1" seed corn to Continued on Page Two

New Service to Indiana Poultry Raisers and New Line of Work For Students Started

TO SUPPLY CHICKS TO RAISERS

A new service to Indiana poultry raisers and a new line of work for Purdue University students is being started this spring by the Poultry Department. It has been the desire of the Poultry Department to offer students of Purdue University training in the operation and management of a commercial hatchery and to furnish Indiana poultry raisers with baby chicks in place of eggs for setting from well bred stock.

Both of these desires are being worked out this spring through the added facilities offered by the new poultry building and the installing of a new incubator equipment.

The new incubator equipment brings together for comparison purposes three widely used types of incubators: machines used by commercial hatcheries. These machines have a capacity of 9100 eggs and represent three distinct types, the triple deck sectional type machine, the water heated cabinet type with forced air circulation and the cabinet type electric heated incubator. In addition to these incubators there are twenty-two small machines each fifteen different makes.

This equipment will be in operation during March, April and May and public inspection will be welcomed at any time. The first shipment of chicks was made Feb. 22 and other shipments will follow each week until the middle of May.

No Flock Can be Sure Chickens are Free From Disease Until After 2 or More Clean Tests

HANCOCK COUNTY RESULTS

Blood Test is Bringing Returns in Controlling Losses Due to Bacillary White Diarrhea

Bacillary White Diarrhea is an infectious disease, transmitted from an infected hen through the egg to the chick. If there are only a few infected chicks in the hatch the disease spreads to the healthy ones. Often times the death rate in chicks from 4 days to 3 weeks of age is from 50 percent to 90 percent.

The only proven remedy is prevention which can be practiced by selecting non-infected hens and roosters for breeding. Infected birds in a flock can be detected by means of the blood test. However, no owner of a flock can be absolutely sure his flock is free from disease until after two or more clean tests.

This last year in Hancock county 10,000 hens were tested. On 20 farms which were picked at random by County Agent Cromer the percent of chickens hatched in 1923 and 1924 was 19,109 and 13,845 respectively. The percent raised in 1923 of this number was 37 percent while in 1924 these same 20 farmers raised 68.3 percent of their hatch.

The following is what some of the Hancock women have to say for the Bacillary White Diarrhea test. "I had practically no losses from B. W. D. All losses were due to coccidiosis."—Mrs. Hazel Ashcraft. "Losses first three weeks did not exceed 100 chicks, other losses were Continued on Page Two

Figures Based on Reports From 333 of The 460 Different Institutes Held During Winter

TOTAL ATTENDANCE 131,692

Largest Two Day Session Held Any Place in State Was at Knights-town With 2,268

Lafayette, Ind., March 11—Approximately 175,000 Indiana farm men and women turned out for the farmers' institutes which were held over the state during the past winter. This was the statement today by Prof. W. C. Fitch, in charge of this work for the Agricultural Extension Department of Purdue University, basing his figures on reports from 333 of the 460 different institutes held from Nov. 10 to Feb. 28. The total attendance at the 333 institutes was 131,692 or an average of 396 each.

Every county in the state except five held institutes this year, one county, Cass, holding as high as 13. This was more than any other in the state. Washington and Sullivan counties each had 12, and Lawrence county had eleven.

The largest two day session held at any place in the state was at Knights-town with 2,268, and the largest single day institute was at Anderson, where 1,135 different persons registered. Some of the other large institutes held were at Holland, in Dubois county, where 1,890 persons attended the six different sessions, at Cowan, in Delaware county, where 1,925 persons attended the five different sessions. A total of 1,615 attended the institute at Harlan in Allen county, and three sessions at the Moral School in Shelby county, brought out 1,650 persons.

"Interested in the institutes was keener this year than at any time since they were started in 1889," said Prof. Fitch. "This is shown by the attendance records, established in many places over the state."

The instruction is given at the institutes by successful farm men and women from over Indiana and members of the Purdue extension staff. Various agricultural and home economics shows are held in connection and the institutes are a big factor for rural betterment in the state.

KOSCIUSKO DAIRYMEN KEEP FEED RECORDS

The Jersey Breeders' Association of Kosciusko County held a meeting recently with R. D. Cannon as principal speaker. Arrangements were made for a year's record keeping work in the Dairy Feeding project. A number of farmers with about 60 cows enrolled. An interesting item in connection with the dairy work of a year ago is that one of the men present then is changing his herd as fast as possible to pure bred Jerseys and has produced a pure bred Jersey bull to head the herd. This work may be traced directly to the meeting of a year ago.

Wheat Handler on Rush County Farm Different From Ordinary Type

HOPPER AND END OF WHEAT BIN

The Indiana Farmer's Guide printed an article about a wheat handling device on a Rush county farm that is different from the ordinary type used. The Guide says:

On the Rush county farm of A. S. Cecil & Sons, of Delaware county, farmed by George Moore, wheat is handled in a manner different from that ordinarily used. Under the comb of the roof of the crib shed are two large wheat bins to which the grain is raised with a hopper that is operated with a hay-loading equipment. The plan may appeal to some farmers who already have the roof and the empty space above the drive between their cribs, and who do not now have a satisfactory place for wheat storage.

One of the important things is to have the building strong enough to hold the wheat bins and their contents, for it must not be forgotten that wheat at 60 pounds to the bushels soon has a great weight though its cubic space may not be great. The bins on the Cecil farm will hold about 2,000 bushels. Timbers of about a foot square are used for bracing them, together with smaller framework.

The track for the hopper is built under the comb of the shed and the ordinary hay car is used. The wheat is hoisted from the middle of the shed and worked toward the end where the grain is to be stored. One bin is at each end.

The hopper is built of inch pine, heavily reinforced at the corners with angle iron and supported by round pieces of steel, which cross in the middle and are attached to the rope leading to the hay-ford car. The hopper holds 10 bushels, but it has been found better to operate it with about 8 bushels. In other words, about a quarter of a ton of wheat is hoisted at each load.

With the hopper the wheat is more quickly moved from wagon bed to bin, and a great amount of shoveling is saved. Arriving over the bin,

ADVANTAGES OF BEE KEEPING POINTED OUT

Beekeeping is Not Only Industry For Profit But in Addition it Provides a Food

FACTOR IN AGRICULTURE

Lafayette, Ind., March 11—The advantage of bee keeping are pointed out in a bulletin issued by Prof. J. J. Davis, of the Purdue University department of entomology.

"Beekeeping is not only an industry for profit but in addition it provides a food of merit—a product which would otherwise be lost," he says.

"Bees are one of the governing factors in profitable agriculture in cross-pollinating the flowers of fruits, vegetables and many forage crops, and the honey bee is the only dependable agency in this important work."

The nature and value of honey, the importance of cross-pollination of fruits and flowers, and the conservation of the nectar of flowers in the form of honey are discussed in the bulletin.

a slide is removed from the bottom and the wheat runs out—the same system used by a miller when he fills a sack. The shed in which the cribs and bins are located is about 27 by 48 feet, with the drive the long way and the corn cribs of about 1,500 bushel capacity on each side.

due to three chills and two fires." Mr. E. J. Reeves.

"Not a single chick was lost under 10 days of age because of disease. Losses include 19 cripples and weak, which were killed; 12 from gaps, crows, etc."—Mrs. Rabe.

"If I had a single chicken to die from white diarrhea, I did not know it. My losses were due to wet weather."—Mrs. J. J. Pratt.

"Although my records do not show it, I am a firm believer in the blood test. I lost a few chickens due to brooder pneumonia. 50 per cent of my hatch came from pullets."—Mrs. Marsh.

"I had practically no losses under 10 days of age. Most of my losses came when chicks were about 3 weeks of age, and was due to wet weather, rats and other vermin. I feel that the blood test is alright."—Mrs. John S. Thomas.

"We had practically no losses from B. W. D."—Mrs. E. E. Brooks.

"I lost only 6 chickens under one week of age."—Mrs. Perry Wickard.

"My report is convincing to me. I got results."—Mrs. Kittle.

It seems that the blood test is giving returns in controlling losses due to Bacillary White Diarrhea. Many farmers in Rush county have had their flocks tested during the past few weeks and it is hoped that within another year there will be similar statements to those given above from poultry raisers in Rush county.

plant his 1925 crop.

One progressive farmer in the county, selected a large quantity of seed last year. He stored this in a upstairs room of his house which was well ventilated during the early fall and did not expose the corn to the extreme low temperature during the Christmas holidays.

The average farmer would be more than pleased to have such a quantity of seed to select from this season. However, this farmer is not stopping with these precautions but by the modified rag doll test he is eliminating 25 per cent of the ears which shows the weakest sprouts. This should insure a good yield this coming summer.

A question which could well be asked most farmers is—"When do you determine whether you have a stand of corn?" The common answer would be—"that the stand is determined immediately after the corn comes through the ground." Such is not the answer—the farmer who tests his seed will give you. He has gone a step farther and determines his stand by the number of barren stalks at shucking time.

more per litter.

By a study of these figures it is learned that there is an average difference of three pigs per litter between the group of farmers where cleaning the farrowing pens was the only sanitary precaution and the group of farmers where all four precautions were practiced. In view of this the county swine committee elected by the hog growers at their February meeting have outlined a method which will be called Rush County's pig management system. The rules suggested are as follows:

1. Clean out all straw and manure in farrowing pens prior to farrowing season.
2. Wash farrowing pens thoroughly with hot water and lye. Using about one-half cun of lye to thirty-five to forty gallons of water.
3. Scrub off the brood sow's udders with warm water and soap before putting them into clean farrowing pens.

4. Keep sows and pigs out of old hog lots and pastures from farrowing to weaning time.

After June first the County Committee composed of Charles Trowbridge, Will Harton, and Link Jinks would appreciate learning what success Rush county farmers have had in following one or more of the above practices.

SHORT COURSES ATTRACT 22,479

Average of 1873 Persons Present at Events Held Throughout State During Past 3 Months

PORTLAND SETS RECORD

Twelve Different Cities and Towns Given Courses by Purdue University This Year

Lafayette, Ind., March 11.—A "Miniature Purdue" was carried to 22,479 persons over Indiana during the last three months through the special short courses conducted by the Agricultural Extension Department of Purdue University. Twelve different cities and towns were given the courses this year with an average registered attendance of 1873 adults at each place.

Portland established an attendance record for all short courses ever held in the state, with 3380 different persons, breaking the mark set just prior to that by Alexandria, with 3036 in attendance. The other places where courses were held during the season and the attendance follows: Batesville 2619; Sullivan, 713; Salem, 1485; Washington 1975; Veedsburg, 1745; Culver, 1153; North Judson, 1557; Huntington, 2650; Kentland, 1253; Richmond, 1242. Last year, the total attendance was 1462, with an average of 1224.

A feature of the courses this year has been a joint banquet for farmers and merchants in each place as the closing event. This has sort of topped off the lectures and demonstrations by the Purdue men and women and has been spoken of highly in the different towns and cities. G. M. Frier, in charge of this work for the extension division, reports that several towns and cities have asked for the special short courses for next year. Only a third of those seeking them during the past winter could be accommodated because of lack of speakers.

LAFORTE KIWANIS BACKS SPUDS CLUB

A plan for supporting a Boys' Potato Club by the LaPorte Kiwanis Club has been adopted. 22 Kiwanis members co-operating in the plan thereby providing for 22 boys to be in the club. Besides furnishing certified seed potatoes, each Kiwanis gives $1 to the cash premium list. A silver loving cup will be presented to the champion potato grower. A local paper commented as follows: "President George Allen has an idea that he is going to spring before the club soon. The farmer and his welfare has a big place in the program of Kiwanis. The farmer's boy has a still bigger place. Here is what George proposes: Let ten Kiwanians provide ten farmer boys with four bushels each of certified seed potatoes, these boys to be selected by and work under the direction of Kiwanian Mansfield, County Agent, to plant the potatoes and then compete with each other in raising the biggest, best crop. Each of the ten Kiwanians belonging to the Spud Club is to receive back from his farmer boy at harvest time four bushels of potatoes for his winter's use—Who will join a Spud Club?"

HULLESS OATS ARE NOT RECOMMENDED

Variety is More Susceptible to Loose Smut Than Any of the Varieties Tested

LATE MATURING QUALITIES

Many Inquiries Received at Purdue Station About Variety Which is Being Advertised

The Soils and Crops Department of the Purdue Agricultural Experiment Station is receiving inquiries about Hulless oats which is being advertised by a number of seedsmen. For several years this department has tested Hulless oats in comparison with varieties of common oats. The yield of Hulless oats ranged from 192 to 1132 pounds and averaged 537 pounds of grain per acre. The yield of Swedish Select, a variety of common oats grown under identical conditions, ranged from 1632 to 2400 pounds and averaged 1904 pounds of grain per acre. Deducting 30 percent for hull from the average yield of Swedish Select, it still produced 1333 pounds of kernels per acre, which is 2 1-2 times the amount produced by the Hulless, states Prof. A. T. Wiancko, head of the soils and crops department.

Hulless oats are more susceptible to loose smut than any of the varieties tested at the Experiment Station. Without seed treatment, the crop may be expected to be badly infested with this disease.

Mid-season oats are the most profitable for the oat growing sections of Indiana. Varieties materially earlier or later than such varieties as Minota, Big Four, Sixermine or Swedish Select will average considerably less in yield. The Hulless variety will average an acre later than these varieties. This difference alone is sufficient to eliminate it as a profitable variety for this State. "Unless a market can be found that will pay 5 1-3 cents when ordinary oats are selling at 1 1-2 cents a pound, farmers will be growing Hulless oats merely to satisfy their curiosity rather than for the profit there is in this crop.

BRONZE TROPHY UP FOR ALL STOCKMEN

Buffalo Trophy to be Awarded Community Doing Best Livestock Work This Year

WILL BE GIVEN ANNUALLY

When a Certain Group Wins it Three Times it Will Become Their Permanent Property

Lafayette, Ind., Mar. 11.—A handsome bronze buffalo trophy will be awarded the community or township in Indiana doing the best livestock work this year, according to plans worked out by the Indiana Livestock Breeders' Association and the Agricultural Extension Department of Purdue University. The trophy which will be known as the Jenkins Buffalo Trophy, because it has been donated by R. C. Jenkins, of Orleans, President of the stockmen's association, will be given annually until it becomes the permanent property of the group winning it three times.

The combined membership of the pig, calf and lamb clubs, Hoosier Ton Litter Club, Gold Medal Sheep Club and 1000-Pound Calf Club are eligible to score in connection with this project. Membership and work completed are the items that make up the score in awarding the trophy.

The total membership enrolled by a school or township organization in these clubs scores as follows:

Each member from 1 to 10 inclusive 1 point
Each member from 11 to 25 inclusive 3 points
Each member from 26 to 40 inclusive 5 points
Each member from 40 up—10 points

The work completed by members of the various clubs mentioned will count the following points towards winning the trophy.

Each boys' and girls' club project completed, 10 points. Each litter, calf or flock that reaches the bronze medal goal, 5 points. Each litter, calf or flock that reaches the silver medal goal, 10 points. Each litter, calf or flock that reaches the gold medal mark, 20 points.

In recent years many of the good livestock communities have claimed outstanding honors for their particular section. In fact, these localities are found in every county in Indiana. The Jenkins' Buffalo Trophy will be awarded for the first time at the annual meeting of the Indiana Livestock Breeders' Association in January, 1926, at Purdue University.

This project is open to schools, farm bureaus, Granges, farmers' clubs and other agricultural community clubs. Entries must be in the hands of P. G. King, Secretary of the Indiana Livestock Breeders' Association, Lafayette, Indiana, before April 1.

County Agricultural agents and vocational teachers throughout Indiana have been sent complete information about the trophy. Information can also be obtained from the Purdue University Agricultural Extension Department, or the Livestock Breeders' Association, Lafayette, Ind.

BOY'S CORN CLUB IS MAKING PROGRESS

to select enough seed for his father's 1926 planting, and if possible some for sale. 4th. Each club member will return a basket of 60 selected ears at the time of the next Corn Show.

This will be used to finance next year's club. During the Corn Show the Boy's Corn Club Committee will hold a "corn auction," where more than 100 farmers will have an opportunity to purchase a basket of select seed. Since Corn Club members are entering into club work with ambitions to assist in making Rush County's corn program a success it is quite necessary that the farmers in each township, as well as the business men, show an active interest in the boy's work from time to time.

40,000 ACRES OF SOYBEANS GROWN

Fifteen Hundred Acres of That Amount Have Been Certified For Seed by Growers' Association

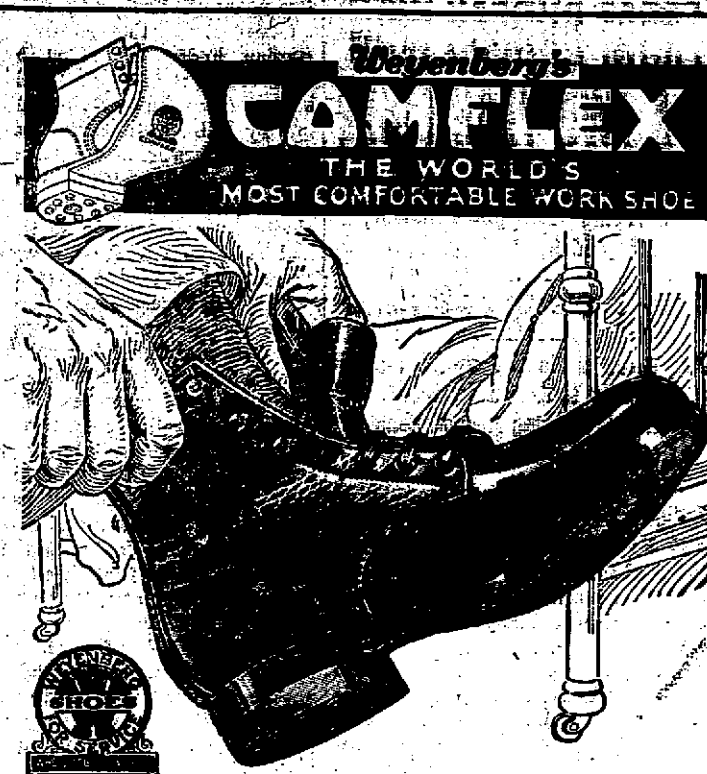

SEED SOLD OUT OF STATE

Certification Requires That Seed be Pure as to Variety and Free From Disease

Approximately 40,000 acres of soybeans were grown in 1924 for seed purposes in Indiana of which 150 acres have been certified by the Indiana Corn Growers' Association and will supply as fine seed as can be obtained anywhere, said K. E. Beeson of the Soils and Crops department of Purdue University in a talk broadcasted from the Purdue Station W.B. A. A. The acreage last year was only a little more than the acreage in 1923. A year ago many farmers delayed buying their seed until the Indiana supply was practically exhausted. As a result, they were forced to buy inferior seed in some cases and at the same time pay a high price for it. Already some of the Indiana seed stock is being sold out of the state, and farmers expecting to buy good beans should not delay until the better seed stock is exhausted.

Much of the seed sold in Indiana in the past has been badly mixed. As a result, growers have not been satisfied with the uneven maturing of their crops, and have discredited soybeans, while the fault really lay with the impurity of the variety. Certified seed is tending to improve the general quality of seed used. Certification requires that the seed be pure as to variety, free from disease, carefully re-cleaned, and that it germinate at least 90 per cent. As a consequence, no finer seed is being placed on the market than certified soybeans. Farmers can obtain a list of the certified seed growers from their county agents or by writing to the Secretary of the Indiana Corn Growers' Association at Lafayette.

Workmen instantly
recognize its quality

A WORKMAN can recognize Carey roofing after the wrapper from the roll is thrown away.

Compared with roll goods of equal weight, there is a toughness that distinguishes the Carey product.

It is the quality in the felt that not only makes it tougher, but causes it to absorb more asphalt saturant.

To insure superior felt, rags are sorted right in the Carey plant, and all felt used in Carey roofing is made according to Carey tested specifications in the Carey factory.

It is only natural that this tougher, better saturated roofing should give the longer service for which it is famous.

FARM BUREAU WON A TWO YEAR FIGHT

Lindley Cooperative Marketing Bill
Carrying Emergency Clause,
Signed by Gov. Jackson

WHAT THE LAW PROVIDES

Act Gives Indiana Farmers an Opportunity to Operate Co-Operative Marketing Associations

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 11.—The Indiana Farm Bureau Federation won a two year fight when Governor Ed Jackson signed the Lindley co-operative marketing bill. The bill carried an emergency clause, and thus became a law on the Governor's signature. The Lindley bill was introduced in Indiana Senate on January 14, at the same time that an identical bill, by Representatives Murden and Hall, was introduced in the House. The House bill was passed first, but reaching the Senate without amendments agreed to in committee, the Senate bill was substituted. It passed the Senate 37 to 2, only. Senators O'Rourke, of Fort Wayne, and Perkins, of South Bend, voting against it. The bill then passed in the House 91 to 0, and sent to the Governor. The Governor received the bill February 20.

"The Lindley co-operative marketing bill, which has just been signed by Governor Jackson, represents two years of effort and careful study on the part of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation, aided by loyal members of the Indiana legislature," said a statement on the bill given out by William H. Settle, president of the Federation. "The bill as passed is the bill the Farm Bureau desired to have passed, such minor changes as were made in the original measure having been approved and agreed to by the Farm Bureau."

"The enactment of this legislation closes a two year fight for a co-operative marketing law in Indiana. Once before, in the 1923 legislature, the Farm Bureau succeeded in carrying through the legislature a co-operative marketing bill. As is generally known this bill, reaching Governor Warren T. McCray near the close of the session, was permitted to die a natural death as the session ended. Since that time the Farm Bureau has been at work on the new measure, similar in many respects to the 1923 bill, but free of a number of the provisions against which the strongest protest was made at that time. Practically every provision in the present bill has withstood all attack in court in one state or another."

"The act gives the Indiana farmers an opportunity, fully clothed in legality, and fully protected by statute, to operate co-operative marketing associations, and they will greet the enactment of this statute with gratification."

ITINERARY GIVEN OUT FOR SOIL TRAIN

Starts in Eastern Indiana April 6
Continues Until April 15 Toward Chicago

FOR SOIL IMPROVEMENT

Special Will Carry Twenty Five
Carloads of Limestone for Free
Distribution Among Farmers

The itinerary of the Soil Improvement Special Train to be run over the B & O Railroad in Northern Indiana April 6 to 15 inclusive has just been announced by the Soils and Crops Department of Purdue University. Starting in Eastern Indiana it continues toward Chicago as follows: DeKalb county, St. Joe and Auburn Junction; Noble County, Avilla, Albion and Cromwell; Kosciusko county, Syracuse and Milford Junction; Elkhart county, Napoleon; Marshall county, Bremen, LaPaz, Teegarden; St. Joseph county, Walkerton; La Porte county, Union, Center, Wellsboro and Ailda; Porter County, Coburg and McCool.

The Soil Improvement Special will carry 25 carloads of limestone, contributed by limestone companies for free distribution among farmer demonstrators at each stop.

Farmers adjacent to these stops are asked to bring samples of their soils to the train to have them tested for a sixty tons of limestone was available for distribution at each place, and each farmer whose soil is acid will be given enough limestone to treat one acre of land until the supply is exhausted. Farmers are urged to get application blanks from their county agents as soon as possible, together with instructions for taking the soil samples.

The train includes also a lecture car and a combination laboratory and exhibit car. Only two stops will be made each day, one in the morning at 8:30 to noon, and in the afternoon from 1:30 to 5:00. Representatives of the Purdue Soils and Crops Department, will give lectures at each stop, in the morning at 9:00 and in the afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. The Soil testing work will be in charge of Prof. S. D. Conner of the Soils and Crops Department of the Experiment Station.

REGISTERED SIRES REPLACE 751 SCRUBS

This Replacement Compares Favorably With Report Year Ago When 464 Were Reported

NUMBER OF REASONS GIVEN

Cow Testing Associations Brought About Truer Knowledge of Productive Ability

By R. D. CANAN

(Dairy Extension Staff Purdue University)

The annual report just received from 76 of the County Agricultural Agents indicate that 751 scrub and grade dairy sires in Indiana have been replaced with registered dairy sires during the past year. This replacement compares favorably with the report a year ago, when 80 counties reported 464 registered dairy animals replacing an equal number of scrub or grade sires.

This increase of 62 per cent in the number of scrub sires replaced in 1924 in comparison with the number replaced in 1923 is due to several conditions. First, the marked increase in the number of Cow Testing Associations has brought about a truer knowledge of the productive ability of a great many of Indiana's dairy cows and as a result more of the dairymen are appreciating the importance of better sires, in order to obtain more economical production of dairy products. Second, the price of dairy cattle during the past year has been such that many dairymen felt that they could well afford to purchase a good sire at the prevailing prices. Breeders of pure bred dairy cattle are to be congratulated on the help they have given the pure bred sire industry, through the reasonable prices now placed on dairy sires. Finally the railroads, Farm Bureau organizations, Breed Associations, and County Agricultural Agents have conducted better organized programs dealing with the importance of discontinuing use of scrub and grade sires.

The efforts to reduce the number of scrub and grade sires in Indiana has been productive of good results; progress has been slow, but certain. Now that the movement has gained an definite momentum, it is hoped that the future will see even greater progress made in the removal of one of the dairy industry's greatest drawbacks—the scrub sire.

When washer is not in use, the heater can be lifted out of socket and hung on wall out of the way, without detaching hose connection. It can be suspended from a bracket attached to the wall, and serve the same purpose as a gas stove in the laundry for heating water, starch, flatirons, and many other things. Burner has both air and gas adjustments, making it adaptable for both artificial and natural gas. Patents applied for.
